IN TRUST BY NEW JERSEY COMPANY.

Stock of Republic Oil and Other Plants Held.

Admission Made for Purpose of Present Litigation.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Henry H. Rogers, vice president of the Standard Oil Company, was the first witness today in the investigation conducted by Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, who is seeking to oust the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and companies alleged to be allied with it from doing business in Missouri.

In reply to Attorney General Hadley, Mr. Rogers said he was a stockholder in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. He said he did not know of any division of the business in Missouri relative to the sale of oil between the respondent companies, the Waters-Pierce and the Republic Oil Company. He neither owned nor controlled any stock in the Waters-Pierce company.

He had heard of N. N. Van Buren as the son-in-law of John D. Archbold. N. M. Tilford, he thought, was connected with a Continental oil company, and had an office at 26 Broadway. Witness had no business connection with selling and refining oil in Missouri. He thought that D. A. Moffat was president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Mr. Rogers said that he had had conferences at 26 Broadway with Walter C. Teagle, who, he understood, was in some foreign business in connection with the Standard Oil.

Mr. Hadley then read a question asked at the previous hearing, which charged that the Waters-Pierce Company and the Republic Oil Company and the Standard Oil Company of Indiana were doing business in Missouri in violation of that state's anti-trust.

"Is it not a fact that the stock of these three companies is held by the Standard Oil of New York, or by some person or persons in trust for it, in a combination trust, confederation or agreement?" the attorney general asked.

"My knowledge is extremely limited as to such details," answered Mr. Rogers.

Judge Johnson, one of the attorneys for the Standard Oil Company, then had it noted on the record that the Standard Oil Company would admit that the stock of the Republic Oil Company and the Waters-Pierce Company and the Standard Oil of Indiana was held in trust by the Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Judge Johnson added that the admission was made for the purpose of the present litigation. Judge Priest, also of counsel for the Standard Oil Company, said the stock showing on the stock book of the Waters-Pierce company as standing in the name of Mr. Van Buren was held in the interests of the Standard Oil of New Jersey. Judge Priest said these admissions were made subject to an exception as to its materiality, to be passed upon by the higher courts.

General Hadley then said that he wished it understood that these admissions of stock ownership covered the period of time named in the information. The trust attorneys agreed to this, and made a new admission, that for the purposes of this litigation only it would be admitted that a majority of the stock of the Standard Oil of Indiana and all the stock of the Republic Oil company is held in the interests of the Standard Oil of New Jersey. It was also admitted that all the stock of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, standing in the name of Mr. Van Buren, was held in the interests of the Standard Oil of New Jersey.

At Mr. Hadley's request, the word "interests" in both cases were stricken out, making the statement read "held for the Standard Oil of New Jersey."

Mr. Hadley then questioned Mr. Rogers about the naive of the Waters-Pierce company without eliciting much information.

Mr. Hadley said that pending the production of certain papers in connection with the subject, he would suspend Mr. Rogers's examination for the day.

William G. Rockefeller, son of William Rockefeller, was then called to the stand. He said he was assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil of New Jersey and resided in New York city.

The witness denied that he had any connection with the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Mr. Rockefeller also denied that he was a director of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, or a stock-holder in either, or any of the Standard Oil companies; or that he ha dany knowledge of the business affairs of the three respondent companies.

That ended the testimony of Mr. Rockefeller and he was excused from the stand.

Mr. Hadley then asked for an adjournmen until Monday. This was granted by Commissioner Sanborn.

TO PAY FOR SUBSIDIARY LINES.

Increase in Capital Stock of the New Haven Road.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 24.—In regard to the statement that the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company's capital stock is to be increased by about $9,000,000, President Mellen today made the following statement:

"The capital stock of the New Haven road has been authorized to be increased for several purposes—the redeemable debentures issued January 1, 1906, and to pay for securities of leased lines absorbed and for others in process of absorption, but for no other purposes. The amount of all the increases in aggregate $19,000,000, but the stock will not be issued until the securities it represents are taken up."

President Mellen's statement, inasmuch as $20,000,000 of new stock will be required some five years hence to redeem the convertible debentures, indicates that about $20,000,000 additional are to be used in the acquirement of subsidiary lines, as has been the fixed policy of the company for many years, and several of those lines will soon be legally merged.

IS HIS OWN ACCUSER.

Lieutenant Cravens to be Court-Martialled for Duplicating Pay.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Lieutenant Harder Cravens of the artillery corps, U. S. A., faces a court-martial here today, on a charge of duplicating his pay accounts while stationed at Fort Williams, Portland, Me. According to Lieutenant Cravens, he is his own accuser. He says that several months ago he found he had duplicated his pay accounts, and had received about $137 that he was not entitled to. The duplication, he said, was made by mistake. The pay department had to order an investigation and the charges against Cravens resulted. Lieutenant Cravens has been in the service since 1901, when he enlisted in the cavalry.

ON PURE FOOD AMENDMENT.

Proprietary Medicine Manufacturers Given a Hearing.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Proprietary medicine manufacturers were granted a hearing today by a subcommittee of the House committee on interstate and foreign commerce on the proposed amendment by Representative Loverling of Massachusetts to the pure food bill. The amendment permits the use of a limited amount of alcohol, opium, cocaine and other poisonous substances in patent medicines without stating on labels that they are contained in the preparation.

George S. Douglass, attorney for the Proprietary Association of America, addressed the sub-committee, and Frank J. Cheney, president of the association, and many of its prominent members attended the hearing. Mr. Douglass declared that alcohol was necessary as a solvent and preservative in certain medicines, and he urged that its use be permitted in a quantity not in excess of the amount shown to be necessary by the United States pharmacopoeia, or the national formulary.

Where the alcohol was in such small quantities in a preparation that it cannot possibly be regarded as a beverage, Mr. Douglass insisted that it is an injustice to require a label announcing the presence of alcohol, as it would prejudice many users against the preparation. He declared that many of the statements made about deaths from headache powders are false and that discredited the charges that soothing syrups produce many fatalities.

GOVERNOR CURRY MISSING.

Engagement Between Constabulary and Pulajanes in Samar.

MANILA, March 24.—A telegram received by the government today from the island of Samar says that an engagement has occurred between the constabulary and a force of fanatical Pulajanes. Governor George Curry is reported to be missing. Details of the affair are lacking.

Governor Curry, whose former home was in New Mexico, was a member of the Rough Riders, reaching the rank of captain. He also was an officer of the volunteer troops sent to the Philippines and became Manila's first chief of police under American rule. Early last year he was appointed governor of the province of Samar, succeeding Governor Bello, who resigned, and was given extraordinary powers for the purpose of bringing peace to the troubled district.

Wisconsin to Join Fleet at Shanghai.

MANILA, March 24.—United States battleship Wisconsin will sail at midnight for Shanghai to join the American fleet there, rush orders to that effect having been received from Rear Admiral Train.

He was appointed deputy coroner in 1880 and served continuously as deputy, as coroner and as mayor until 1903.

JUNKS CLOSED AROUND LAUNCH.

Standard Oil Tug Boarded and Crew Overpowered.

Craft Beached and All Valuables Removed.

HONG KONG, March 24.—Details of the capture and looting by Chinese pirates March 22 near Canton of a launch owned by the Standard Oil Company were obtained today. The launch or tug, Comet, was proceeding to Kongmun, between Wampoa and Canton, towing a lighter laden with kerosene oil. While passing what is known as the "Second Barrier," or second line of former obstructions to navigation, at 8:30 Thursday evening, and when in sight of Wampoa fort, on the island of Wampoa, one of the many islands lying between Canton the sea, a number of junks manned by pirates closed around the Comet and her tow.

A stink pot (earthern jar containing gunpowder, rosin and hand grenades) was thrown into her engine room, the pirates boarded the launch and her crew were overpowered. The pirates then boarded the Comet and the lighter and removed all the valuables from the two vessels, including a number of Winchester rifles and a thousand rounds of ammunition. The cargo of kerosene was not touched.

The pirates it appears missed capturing much more valuable booty. It was the intention of the Standard Oil Company's officials to ship $20,000 in specie on the Comet on her last trip, but the shipment of specie was transferred to a freight steamer.

The American consular officials are investigating the affair.

CHINAMEN BEING SMUGGLED IN.

Now Under Detention In Jail at Richford, Vt.

BOSTON, March 24.—Chinese Inspector Augustus P. Schell, in charge of the New England district, received word today from the Richford, Vt., station of the capture of two Chinamen, who, it is said, were being smuggled across the border. The Chinamen are now under detention in the Richford jail. The man who was doing the smuggling escaped.

FOR INTERNATIONAL TRADE.

Mexican Railroad Ready After Expenditure of $35,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Special Agent Pepper of the Department of Commerce and Labor has made a report to the bureau of manufactures on the Mexican railroad across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec and its relation to the Panama canal. This inter-ocean line, with its terminal and harbor works at Coatzacoalcos, on the Atlantic side, and at Salina Cruz, on the Pacific, has been opened to international trade after an expenditure of $35,000,000. Intimations are given that Mexico will now enter upon a series of trade treaties with Pacific coast countries of South America, to secure their international traffic and also to extend Mexican commerce.

Though the harbor works at Salina Cruz have not been completed, the trans-shipment of cargoes is expected to begin there June, 1906, though Mr. Pepper believes it cannot be inaugurated until September. The American Hawaiian Steamship Company is to operate nine 8,500-ton steamers on a triangular service, touching at San Francisco, Salina Cruz and Honolulu. On the Atlantic side a weekly steamer service is to be maintained between Coatzacoalcos and New York and Coatzacoalcos and Galveston.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW VIOLATIONS.

President Asks Federation of Labor to Send Him Such a List.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—At today's meeting of the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor, the following letter from President Roosevelt to Secretary Morrison was read:

"The White House, Washington,
"March 22, 1906.

"My Dear Mr. Morrison: At our interview yesterday I requested you to bring to my attention any specific cases of violation of the eight-hour law. I would like you to call my attention as soon as possible to any of these complaints and I shall at once forward them to Mr. Neill of the labor bureau and direct him to investigate them and report direct to me.

"Furthermore, I shall hereafter direct all department having control of work as to which this law applies to notify the Department of Commerce and Labor when the work is begun, and I shall notify the Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor, whenever such notification reaches him, himself to notify the head of the labor bureau, whose business it will then be to take cognizance of any complaint made as to violations of this law, to investigate the same, and to report to me.

"As you know, I not only sympathize with you on the eight-hour law, but I intend as a matter of course to see that the law is efficiently enforced. My belief is that you will find that with Commissioner Neill personally supervising the enforcement of the law, all just complaints will be met. Sincerely yours,

"Theodore Roosevelt."

The committee voted to compile a list of complaints and submit them to the President.

SUITS AGAINST THE M'CURDYS.

First in a Series of Eight Begun by New York Mutual Life.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The first complaint in a series of eight actions already begun by the Mutual Life Insurance Company against former President Richard A. McCurdy, his son Robert H. and the firm of Charles H. Raymond & Co., the company's former Metropolitan agents, was made public today.

This particular complaint is against ex-President McCurdy and contains nine separate causes of action. Each of these charges Mr. McCurdy with the waste of large sums of money belonging to the company, through alleged unfaithfulness and neglect in the discharge of his duties.

The first five causes seek recovery in the aggregate of $292,500, as alleged contributions to political parties since January 1, 1585. Of these five causes of action, the complaints say that these payments were "unlawful and improvident" and were authorized and permitted by ex-President McCurdy "through want of ordinary care and diligence."

The sixth cause seeks to recover the sum of $225,000 embracing the $50,000 alleged increase of annual salary drawn by the ex-President since June 1, 1901.

The seventh cause seeks to recover $500,000 as the aggregate of the respective sums of $25,000 drawn quarterly from the company for the last six years of McCurdy's presidency, on the voucher of the committee on expenditures.

The eighth cause deals with the relations of Louis A. Thebaud, son-in-law of ex-President McCurdy, with Raymond & Co., and the "gratuities and rates of commission" received by the firm.

The final cause of action deals with the sum of $1,252,811, received by Robert H. McCurdy as commissions from 1886 to November, 1905, as superintendent of the foreign department.

OVERTIME BILL DEFEATED.

Massachusetts Senate Re-Considers Action in Passing Measure.

BOSTON, March 23.—After a turbulent session, during which the members were locked in their chamber and during which 18 roll-calls were ordered, the Massachusetts senate this afternoon reconsidered its previous action of passing the so-called overtime bill and then by the vote of 13 to 12 rejected the measure. The bill prohibits the employment of women and minors in textile establishments before 6 o'clock in the morning and after 6 o'clock at night. It was passed by the legislature in 1901, but was vetoed by Governor John L. Bates. This action by Governor Bates is generally believed to have been one of the causes of his defeat when he came up for re-election. The next year the bill was passed in the house, but met defeat in the senate. This year the efforts of three years of the labor representatives seemed to be destined to be met with success, for yesterday the bill was adopted by the senate by the vote of 20 to 17 and the advocates of labor, having in mind Governor Guild's past accomplishments for the benefit of child labor, were confident that the bill would become a law.

DEUEL GAINS POINT IN COURT.

Appellate Division Rules Out Testimony of Norman Hapgood.

NEW YORK, March 23.—The application for the removal of Joseph M. Deuel, justice of the court of special sessions, because of his connection with Town Topics was heard by the appellate division of the supreme court today.

After argument by counsel for the applicants and for Justice Deuel the court declined to admit the record of the trial of Norman Hapgood as evidence against Justice Deuel and declared that there was doubt whether the court possessed jurisdiction in the case. Decision was reserved on that point until Monday.

FOR EXTRA SHARE IN BANK.

Germany Will Abandon Casablanca and Allotment of Ports.

ALGECIRAS, March 23.—The present situation resulting from the conferences may be summed up as follows:

"Germany will abandon Casablanca and also the allotment of the ports, on condition that the powers of the inspectors are extended and compensation is given to her in the shape of an extra share in the bank. France must previously assure her that she will make this effort, Germany not wishing to introduce and support the claim on her own initiative. France considers these terms advantageous and is prepared to accede to them, provided Germany will agree beforehand to support the introduction in the conference of an acceptable solution of the remaining controversial points."

In case a definite arrangement in this direction is concluded before Monday it will only remain for the conference to ratify it. Opposition is not expected. A delegate of a neutral power may, however, object to granting an extra bank share to Germany, in which case the opportunity will occur to consider the Austrians and American schemes.

LOYAL TO THE PRESIDENT.

How the House Has Supported His Recommendations.

People Want Government Seeds Because They Are More Dependable Than Others.

(Washington correspondence of the News.)

WASHINGTON, March 24.—"No House of Representatives has ever been more loyal to a President than that now in session has been to President Roosevelt." The remark was made by one of the House leaders, a chairman of an important committee and one who has been recognized in the management of party affairs. He went on to enumerate the many things in which the Republicans had supported the President and spoke especially of the Philippine tariff bill, the statehood bill and the railroad rate bill. "Even when our own judgment was contrary to the President," he went on, "we have followed him because the people believe he is right and because the country has been demanding that he be supported. We hope that our constituents will appreciate our efforts when we go before them in the fall campaign."

Since Senator Bailey started the ball rolling there has been considerable discussion as to whether the Supreme Court would uphold the constitutionality of a law which would deny the right of an inferior court to issue an injunction against putting into effect rates fixed by the interstate commerce commission. Whatever Congress may do, it may be set down as a probable fact that the Supreme Court would uphold such a law. It would enhance the power of the Supreme Court and make it plain that this great tribunal is the only court in the land whose rights cannot be circumscribed or limited by an act of Congress. It would no doubt hold that as Congress created the inferior courts it can limit their powers, but as the constitution created the Supreme Court its powers are controlled only by the organic law.

Neither the announcement of his engagement nor his marriage with "Alice's favorite daughter" has made any difference with Nick Longworth. This Ohio Congressman did not "contract an alliance with the President's family," as some effusive writers put it, but he married Miss Alice Roosevelt, daughter of President Roosevelt. This has made no difference with him personally or publicly. He is the same genial individual that he was before and just as good a Congressman. I am bound to say that he is sought after more, because there are people who think he is more influential with the President on account of his relationship. I don't believe, however, that any one advances his cause by going to Longworth under such circumstances. He can see through this sort of thing as well as the next man.

So few public speakers know when to stop talking. So many public speakers take advantage of an audience to go on and on forever. It is therefore refreshing to find a man occasionally who knows how the other people feel. Here is a rule of Representative Walter I. Smith of Iowa, and it is a pity that it cannot be before every man who talks:

"I always make it a rule," said Smith, "to quit when a few want me to go on instead of going on until everybody wants me to quit."

Besides the desire of people to get something for nothing there is another reason why the people of the United States insist that they must have seeds furnished by the government. These seeds are better even when purchased for distribution than most of the seeds that can be bought in the stores. At least that is an explanation made by Secretary Wilson. It seems that the assortment of seeds purchased or grown by the Agricultural Department are selected with such care that they are of a better quality than the great body of seeds on the market. Several Congressmen have endorsed this view, and they tell me that one reason why they support the proposals for free seeds is because their constituents write them that the department seeds are more dependable than others.

The Senate committee on interoceanic canals likes to have people talk about matters pertaining to the canal. Any man who has some ideas on that waterway can get an opportunity to tell his story to the committee. No doubt some of the members are very much dissatisfied on account of the way things are being conducted, but there seems to be no way to avoid it. There are members of the committee who desire to have everybody heard, and there seem to be a great many men who are very willing to tell the committee about the canal.

Two terms in the railroad rate legislation have caused more trouble than everything else combined. They are "just and reasonable rates" and "fairly remunerative rates." Senator Dolliver was sitting in the Senate restaurant the other day and Senator Culberson entered.

"How are you?" said the Texan by way of greeting.

"Just and reasonable," responded the Iowan, "if not fairly remunerative."

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivaled by Human Hair Where Dandruff Is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness; and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scouring the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. ATTACKS PSEUDO-REFORM.

District Attorney Jerome Makes Bitter Speech at Banquet.

NEW YORK, March 23.—District Attorney Jerome hit out at his critics tonight. Standing behind the speakers' table at the Delta Upsilon dinner at the Savoy Hotel, and facing 500 of his fellow members, who had shouted themselves hoarse for him, Mr. Jerome made a speech which for bitterness has probably never been equalled at any public banquet.

It was not alone his own critics that Mr. Jerome went for tonight. He also assailed with equal fire the magazine exposers for defaming their country and bringing on a reign of what he described as "hysteria." But it was when he came down to his own critics that Mr. Jerome had the most to say. He attacked the newspapers first and followed this with an attack on Judge Parker and others, who, he said, seemed to the grace of the moment to have lost their senses and wanted him to do things without evidence.

"It is because a grand jury would indict these men with or without evidence," he said, "that there is one public official in New York today who will not permit it to indict without evidence."

Mr. Jerome's speech came after Charles E. Hughes, who shared the honors of the evening with him, had left. It directly followed a speech by J. Ridgeway of Everybody's Magazine, who had told the gathering that they did not realize "how rotten everything is."

NO MYSTERY!

There is no mystery in good paint making. It's only "cheap" and inferior paint that surrounds itself with secrecy and mystery.

The SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT

is not a "patent" or "chemical" paint. There's no secret or mystery about it. Its a pure lead, pure zinc and pure linseed oil paint. It's better than other paints made from the same materials, because the methods and manufacturing facilities of its makers are better—not because they have any patent or secret scheme. It is known all over the world as the best paint that can be bought. Insist on having it used on your house, thereby giving it the best paint protection.

NEW ENGINE TESTED.

Naval Board Makes Record of Its Workings—Trial Conducted Under Difficulties.

A good-sized party of Newporters went to the Training Station yesterday afternoon to witness the trial of the new steam fire engine for the Station. In the party were Chief Kirwin, Assistant Chief Bosworth, Foremen Shaw, Tanner and Wood; Engineers Leonard and Donovan and a number of other firemen.

The big machine was hauled around from the barracks fireroom, where it is stored, by half a hundred apprentice seamen, stripped for the tug, as it were, as they wore neither overcoats, mittens nor rubber boots. The engine was taken to the main dock, where there was a fresh-water connection to feed the boiler and the suction could be dropped overboard. Two lines of hose, each 500 feet in length, were led out. One of these had been used before, and when an attempt was made to force water through it would not go, and finally it had to be blown out, shot by shot, for a portion of its length, as heavy ice had made within from the water left in the hose.

A naval board of acceptance was on duty with the specifications, and made a careful record of the work of the engine throughout, which will be the basis of the board's decision. About three hours were consumed by the test, which was made severe and under some difficulties. In the first place, the regular coal, such as is used in fire engines, did not appear, and for some time Pocahontas coal from the Station was used. It was a cold day for the trial, and as the place was exposed many of the voluntary audience retired long before the test was completed. Both Admiral Thomas and Captain Sawyer were personal observers of the early part of the test.

Toward the close the first detail of boys was relieved by another from barracks B. The new detail wore overcoats and gloves and were prepared for the work in tending the streams. When the word came to secure and they started back with the steamer it was noticed that while they were inclined to make a speedy run back they soon "settled into their collars" and tugged hard at the drag ropes.

Before the engine could be left, when once at the storage place, the water had to be carefully drained out to prevent freezing. While the steamer will at present be drawn by hand, as well as housed in an undesirable place, Captain Sawyer is in hope of being able to provide some means of having horses for it.

Both Admiral Thomas and Captain Sawyer spoke of the advantage the machine would be to Newport in case of a big fire here. They would gladly render any assistance in such a time which lay in their power. They did not think, of course, that it would be practicable to send the engine to the city drawn by boys, but some means would be found of getting it here in an emergency. Were the engine sent here some thought might be necessary to locate it for action, for it is not in all parts of the city that the powerful machine will find sufficient water in the mains to draw from. If Newport's own engines were also drawing from the same mains. The Station has received an outfit of extension ladders in addition to new hose, so that the fire fighting equipment is becoming quite complete.

APPRENTICES LEAVE THE STATION.

Yesterday 100 apprentice seamen, graduated from the Training Station force, started to see the world. The boys first receive a furlough, that they may visit their homes, and then report to various navy yards to join the ships on which they will gain their seafaring experience. The hammocks and bags of the boys were shipped by express to the places where they will be expected to report. The more studious boys strive to seek a seaman's rating, while those who fall of knowledge of the more complex markings or have not the energy to work for a life on deck seem to be satisfied with positions as coal passers. This position is sought by some of the smart boys also, as it leads to good positions in the engineer division if one is inclined to become interested and proficient.

TO KILL A NAVY HORSE.

Captain Sawyer of the Training Station has asked permission of the Navy Department to kill a horse belonging to the Station. The animal it is claimed is 32 years old, and death it is considered would be a kindly act. He has been working up to the present winter, but is now having a well earned rest. He has been on the island 25 years, it is claimed, being a relic of the old poor farm, and later attached to the boys' mess of the Station, but now belongs to the Navy Department and can be charged off the books only by orders from Washington.

FUNERAL OF MRS. N. B. CHURCH.

Funeral services for Mrs. N. B. Church were held yesterday afternoon in the Central Baptist Church, Tiverton, of which she was a member. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Dutton of Fall River, assisted by Rev. Mr. Hutchman, pastor of the Tiverton church. There was a large gathering of friends and relatives, many being present from Fall River, Providence and New York. The floral offerings were very extensive and beautiful. The bearers were William R. Morse of New York, William B. M. Chace of Fall River, Charles A. Jenney, Edward Hathaway of Fall River, James B. Church, Jr., and William E. Brightman of Tiverton. Two special cars were run from Fall River to accommodate friends. The interment was in the Church family lot, near the church.

THE CROWN CAME BACK.

Returned to Coronet Council After Circling the State.

Celebration of the Arcanum Anniversary and Visit of Grand Regent Tilley.

Coronet Council, No. 63, Royal Arcanum, were the hosts and representatives of nearly every other council of the order in the state were the guests at an entertainment given last evening in the Builders and Merchants' and Realty Company's halls. It was a three-fold celebration, the official visitation to Coronet Council by Grand Regent George W. Tilley and the officers of the Grand Council of Rhode Island, the return of the emblematic crown by Huskell Council of Pawtucket, and incidentally the twenty-eighth anniversary of the organization of the local council. It was indeed a gala night for the Royal Arcanumites of Newport and of Rhode Island, for it was one of the largest and most representative gatherings of the members of the order ever held in the state, and the entertainment provided by the committee of Coronet Council, assisted by the Grand Council, was at once varied and interesting to every one, whether hosts or guests.

Coronet Council held its regular meeting early in the evening, with nearly 100 members present, and after the routine business was transacted a recess was taken to await the arrival of the visitors. The first to arrive were 40 members of Narragansett Council of Wickford, who came in a special launch, and at 8:20 the special car on the Newport & Providence railway brought the delegation from Huskell Council bearing the crown and accompanied by members of the Grand Council and representatives of the various subordinate councils in Providence, Pawtucket and vicinity. There were about 125 in this party and with the members of the local and Conanicut councils, others of the grand officers and visitors from other states, there were nearly 300 Arcanumites in the hall and ante-rooms.

Grand Regent George W. Tilley was an early arrival and found a hearty welcome among the members of his home council, and spent the half hour intermission greeting his many friends. Past Supreme Regent W. Holt Apgar of New Jersey was also on hand early and met the Rhode Island members in the room in the third story, which had been reserved for the high officials.

At 8:30 o'clock the council was again called to order and the hall was filled to overflowing with local and visiting members. Regent Robert S. Burlingame presided, and in a few minutes Grand Guide J. Irving Shepley announced the arrival of the grand regent, past supreme regent and the members of the Grand Council. Past Grand Regent Andrew K. McMahon was appointed to escort the visitors to the hall, and they shortly appeared, Grand Regent Tilley being accompanied by Grand Vice Regent Byron P. Stedman, Grand Orator Norman H. Cheney, Past Grand Regents Thomas R. Spencer, William J. Burton, J. Willard Baker, Warren B. Wesley, James A. Davis and Andrew K. McMahon, Past Supreme Regent W. Holt Apgar, Supreme Representative W. J. Bansbach, Grand Secretary John S. Kellogg, Grand Treasurer Edward L. Spencer, Grand Guide J. Irving Shepley, Grand Chaplain Joseph G. Reynolds, Grand Sentry Harry S. Flynn and District Deputy Grand Regents Arthur W. Davis, W. W. Whitten, C. T. Fisher, J. W. Moulton, John H. French and Frank L. Brooks. The grand officers were received in due form, Regent Burlingame making a brief but hearty address of welcome.

Next in order was the reception of the crown. The emblem which was started on the rounds of the state councils in October, 1904, when Coronet Council took it to Pawtucket Council, had completed its journeys through the 21 subordinate councils and was now to be returned to its home council. It was presented by the degree team of Huskell Council of Pawtucket, headed by Past Regent Bratley, and the presentation speech was made by Past Regent Burrows of Huskell. It was received by Regent Burlingame of Coronet Council in a happy speech, and following the presentation the Huskell degree team executed a number of movements on the floor, which were so successfully performed that there was a unanimous

OUR LITTLE LIVES.

[Margaret Deland, in Ladies' Home Journal.]

O patient Christ! when long ago
O'er old Judea's rugged hills
Thy willing feet went to and fro,
To find and comfort human ills—
Did once Thy Pitier, earnest eyes
Look down the solemn centuries,
And see the smallness of our lives?

Their selfish efforts for the right,
Or cowardice that keeps from sin—
Content only to see the height
That nobler souls will toil to win!
Oh, shamed to think Thine eyes should see
The souls contented just to be—
The lives too small to take in Thee!

Lord, let this thought awake our shame,
That blessed shame that stings to life,
Rouse us to life for Thy dear name,
Arm us with courage for the strife.
O Christ! be patient with us still!
Dear Christ! remember Calvary's hill—
Our little lives with purpose fill!

ASKS FOR 19,400 TON SHIP.

New War Vessel Recommended by Secretary Bonaparte to be Called the Constitution.

One battleship of upward of 19,000 tons displacement, to be called the Constitution, in perpetuation of the memory of the famous frigate of the War of 1812, will be the probable recommendation of the House committee on naval affairs. Charles J. Bonaparte, Secretary of the Navy, appeared before the committee and stated that he desired the authorization of two new battleships of 16,000 tons each, or of one battleship of at least 19,400 tons if the committee did not see fit to authorize two of the smaller ships.

He further suggested the building of four torpedo boat destroyers at a total cost of $3,000,000; two submarines at a total of $500,000; one gunboat at $600,000 and two river gunboats at a total of $200,000. In addition to this he would like to have authorized, but does not regard as indispensable, two scout cruisers of a total of $4,000,000. This is a total of $25,350,000. This does not mean, however, that this large sum will be added to this year's naval bill, for, as a matter of fact, the expenditures will not be made until a year hence and will then extend over a period of three years from that time.

Secretary Bonaparte's alternative recommendation of one battleship of 19,400 tons meets with a favorable reception from several important members of the committee. The limit of displacement named by Mr. Bonaparte is the result of the opinion of naval constructors that a ship of that tonnage is required if its battery is to consist of ten 12-inch guns. Secretary Bonaparte did not suggest the name "Constitution," but it finds favor with most of the members of the committee. The attitude of the Senate naval affairs committee on the question of increasing battleship displacement from 16,000 tons, where they have hung for four years, is not disclosed.

Quite a discussion ensued in the committee when Secretary Bonaparte stated that the submarine was yet in an experimental stage, but that the battleship had demonstrated its utility and effectiveness. Certain members of the committee who take a deep interest in legislation affecting submarine torpedo boats at once began to question him closely with the evident purpose of bringing out a more favorable expression of opinion regarding these craft.

TALK, BUT NO STRIKE.

Talk is cheap, and so long as the coal operators and miners continue to discuss their differences without taking any definite action toward a strike the public will not suffer, except from anxiety as to what may come later. Meanwhile the miners are piling up coal for the people to use, and the operators are paying out money for the miners to use, and the public is in safety. It is to be hoped that this condition of things will be continued indefinitely, if a positive agreement not to strike cannot be reached.

The longer the talking is continued the less likely it may become that there will be anything more than talk, and the people do not care how long the two sides to the controversy indulge in that propensity. What the public is interested in is the aversion of a strike, and if it can be accomplished by the continuance of discussion of the situation and each other by the operators and the miners the people will be quite content, though they would prefer something more definite in the form of a positive assertion that the differences have been adjusted and the danger of a strike is entirely removed.

THE BILLBOARD NUISANCE.

They are after the billboards down in aesthetic Boston. Some which are particularly objectionable have been placed overlooking the Common, and as the Common is sacred ground to Bostonians there has been a hue and cry by merchants and professional men, which has resulted in the appointment by the city council of a committee of investigation and remedy. And the people of the city are not concerned alone about these particular boards in the vicinity of the Common, but have begun a crusade against the display of so many and such objectionable ones in all parts of the city. They declare that these signboards have become so numerous and of such proportions and such a nature as to be public nuisances, and want something done to check the evil.

This is a good movement and it would be well if other communities were prompted by the same aesthetic feeling to demand action relative to this matter. It is not an evil which is confined to Boston by any means, but is common in every city and large town. Everywhere the prospect is disfigured by the display of these abominations. They discount all attempts to improve the appearance of a city, they nullify all the efforts of architects to make the buildings which they plan effective by their surroundings, they hide the artistic and flaunt the vulgar and the cheap in the faces of the people, they kill admiration and love for the beautiful, and destroy the efforts of the public-minded to cultivate in the young a desire for and appreciation of the beautiful in nature and art. They are a nuisance, and ought to go.

JAPAN'S RAILROAD CONTROL.

Japan is moving for national ownership of railroads, but is doing so conservatively and not radically. Instead of nationalizing them all at once, she will purchase only six at present. These will be among the most important in the realm, and ultimately the nation will acquire all the others and place them under government control and management. The plan adopted is to make the transfer a gradual process rather than a revolution. But this is not a new and untried thing in Japan, for the government built the roads in the first instance and already operates about one third of the total mileage of the country. The six roads which will be acquired at once include about half the entire railroad system of the country, some 2,500 miles, and about 1,300 miles are now operated by the government.

The nationalization of the railroads, however, is only a part of the plans for the promotion by the government of the commerce and industries of the country. The possession of these roads is naturally the first step in the change, as that will give a great impetus to the other schemes for the same results. Japan believes in government control of public utilities, and while she is wise enough not to be too radical in her efforts to achieve this result she intends ultimately to enter into possession of all those utilities which serve the public. It will be interesting to watch the development of these plans, for the Japanese are succeeding in about everything they undertake in these days and may be expected to be equally fortunate in this particular.

TO ONE'S VERY DOOR.

That is an interesting statement which was made a few days ago by President Mellen of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, that the experiment may soon be tried in Hartford of running electric trains on that line through the city streets, by switching them from the main tracks to the highway rails and thus depositing passengers at their homes or nearer them than can be done by stopping at a single station on the outskirts of the city, as at present. The idea is to make the trains more convenient than they now are for patrons, and at the same time to make better time in reaching destinations within the city limits, without change of cars. By this arrangement people will be enabled to ride as close to their homes as they can do now by highway cars, and will avoid the inconvenience and loss of time involved in changing cars.

That the people will welcome such a change is beyond question, as the great American traveling public is glad to take advantage of any device which eliminates inconveniences and increases speed. In reaching destinations. The people want both speed and comfort in traveling and anything which will increase these features is certain to be well received by them. This will be a new departure in railroading, but it seems to be feasible and sure of success if inaugurated. According to President Mellen's statement, he desires to establish the new method in Hartford with the intention, if it succeeds there, to develop and extend it in the large cities of Connecticut, and thence all over his lines. There would seem to be no doubt that it will prove a popular move with the public.

A powerful influence in Russia, including the Czar, Premier Witte and other members of the ministry, and men of prominence in various business circles, approves the building of a tunnel under Behring strait, connecting Siberia and Alaska, and the construction of 3,000 miles of railway to connect the Siberian road with the tunnel. The project is backed by American capital, and the outlook for a concession from the Russian government is good. The project is regarded in Russia as essential from a strategic point of view, and, more important still, there is in the higher government spheres a distinct disposition to cultivate the United States as Russia's natural ally in the Far East. It is believed that by interesting Americans materially in Siberia the political ties between the two countries will be strengthened.

It seems to the Daily News as though it were getting to be full time that the relations of the city, and of city officials, to the Police Commission were judicially determined. When sworn officers decline to prosecute cases brought by the police, because they claim that the Commission is a state institution, certainly the questions thus raised should be settled.

Northwestern University at Chicago takes the palm for athletic restriction. It has abolished for five years all inter-collegiate athletics, including football, and during that period all sports will be confined to the student body within the college. There is apparently good reason for this action in the announcement that the debts of the athletic association will be assumed by the university.

Under the local option law Vermont is gradually becoming a Prohibition state again. In 1903 96 towns voted for license, in 1904 this number was reduced to 46, last year only 36 towns elected license, and this year this number has been still further reduced to 28.

The Senators have been talking all the week on the railroad rate bill, and are now farther from an agreement than ever. Every Senator who has spoken seems to have ideas different from those of every other.

Some one saw a flock of wild geese, flying northward, yesterday. There is some consolation for those who are inclined to think spring has been sidetracked.

With the thermometer at 15 degrees, it does not seem possible that the base ball nines are really playing, even in the South.

The Republicans in the General Assembly made a bad blunder yesterday, but the Democrats were asleep and didn't know it.

THE SCHOOLS AND THE TEACHERS.

[Louisville Post.]

Louisville is fortunate in having gathered here the representative teachers of America. If we think seriously and rightly about it we realize that these ladies and gentlemen consider weightier questions today than the Congress of the United States. The very magnitude of the subject—the free education of a free people—staggers the imagination, and from very helplessness in the face of these opportunities and difficulties, the spirit flags, and we stumble blindly on in that faith that "whispers to the worlds of space in the deep night, that all is well."

All reforms, civic and social, personal and political, centre in the schoolroom. There are the men and women who are to rule the future. There are the forces which in the last half of the twentieth century are to grapple with the great problem of the democracy governing a nation of 150,000,000 people and establishing, under the same rule, the "city beautiful" in every state—that city the source and centre of those influences which are to make for all men the laws of rights subordinate to the rule of love.

It is to a new world, re-created from the ashworn creeds of the old, to which we move. We are yet to realize ibsenally on the labors of the men and women of the past and the present. We see as yet only the dawn of that golden age,

"When wealth no more shall rest in mounded heaps,
But, sunk with freer light, shall slowly melt
In many streams, to fatten lower lands."

The preparation for that age goes on in the schools, chiefly in the free schools of America. It is into the consideration of these great themes this body of earnest men and women enter. "We believe," said Mr. Carr of Dayton, Ohio, "we believe that the public schools of the present are the best in the world's history, but by the aid of the people and by the help of God we hope to make them better, yes, much better, in the future."

That hope is the inspiration of all this encounter and unrequited toil of the schoolroom. A vast concourse of children, eager, untrained, waiting for the guiding hand, the word fitly spoken, an insight into that new life, baptism in that light which never was on sea or land—that great concourse of little children is calling on the teachers of America for a new consecration, for better systems, for kindlier patience, for help, for hope, for strength, for knowledge drawn from old fountains for new fields.

THE ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

[Mrs. Kate V. Saint Maur, in Outdoors.]

An old, neglected orchard can be greatly benefited by removing all the suckers from the main limbs, trunks and around the roots of the trees, and cutting away all the dead wood. Real pruning requires knowledge, and with old trees is not always to be advised.

Plough the orchard. Using wood ashes and the barnyard manure round the trees later arouses them into active vigor. Destroy the caterpillar nests, which look like large cobwebs among the branches. Spray the trees thoroughly with Bordeaux, which is made by mixing four pounds of copper sulphate, four pounds of lime, in fifty gallons of water. This mixture, applied now, will check fungoid diseases. Later in the season, after the blossoms have fallen and the fruit formed, add four ounces of paris green to the mixture and spray again. Spraying must not be done when blossom is on the tree, but always before budding or after fruiting.

Before everybody gets too busy with spring work, slack a bushel of lime, thin out to a proper consistency for use with skim milk, add a pound of common salt, with which paint the trunks of the trees to a height of about three feet. It wards off insects and makes the orchard look clean and tidy.

Dig around currant bushes and incorporate barnyard manure, or bone fertilizer, with the earth. Spray twice, allowing four days to intervene, with the second mixture of Bordeaux, otherwise, when the leaves come, they will be eaten by small green caterpillars. Blackberry and raspberry canes should be cut back to three or four feet in height.

PHILADELPHIA VOTES FOR CHEAP GAS.

Both branches of the Philadelphia city councils have voted to reduce the price of gas from $1 a thousand feet to 90 cents during the year 1907; to 85 cents from 1908 to 1912; 80 cents from 1913 to 1917, and to 75 cents from 1918 to January 1, 1928, when the present thirty years' lease held by the United Gas Improvement Company expires. The reduction granted gives to the consumer the rebate which is now retained by the city under the terms of the lease with the gas company.

OURS ALSO.

[Boston Transcript.]

Probably Senator Aldrich is just as much interested in New York's "baby of the week" as is Mr. John D. Rockefeller. For the little chap is his grandchild too, and will dandle on his knee as contentedly as on either of the knees dumbered with Standard oil. Grandpa Aldrich will have just as much fun with him as will Grandpa Rockefeller, and will think John III. the smartest and brightest baby that ever was as surely as will John I. But you wouldn't think that the new baby had any relatives in Rhode Island at all to hear the outsiders talk. You would think the Rockefeller family and the city of New York exclusively his owners and sponsors.

AROUND RHODE ISLAND.

New President for the State Agricultural College.

Act for Purchase and Control of Providence, Pawtucket and East Providence Docks.

The direction of the affairs of the Rhode Island College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts will be taken up, when President Kenyon L. Butterfield leaves July 1, by a former instructor of his, Professor Howard Edwards, who comes with an excellent record from the chair of modern languages at the Michigan Agricultural College. The notice of his acceptance of the call was made known to the board of managers yesterday afternoon. Professor Edwards came East not long ago and visited the Rhode Island College at Kingston, and is familiar with the field to which he was called by the board of managers something over a week ago. President Butterfield is quite in accord with the ideas of his newly appointed successor, and it is probable that there will be no radical change in the policy which has been carried on with every evidence of success during the present administration. The new president is a Virginian of good old Revolutionary stock and Mrs. Edwards is a relative of ex-Governor William Smith of Virginia. The professor is a believer in the mechanical branch of the agricultural college work and contends that women should be educated for farm life as well as men.

An act providing for the purchase and subsequent control and leasing of public wharves and docks along the river front in Providence, Pawtucket and East Providence was presented in the senate yesterday by Senator Morgan of Providence. The first section allows the harbor commissioners to take, in the name of the state, by purchase or otherwise, in fee, from time to time within two years from the date of the enactment of the act, any and every parcel, strip or belt of land or flats bounding on Allen's avenue, in Providence, southerly from the property of the Providence Gas Company, opposite Public street, for a distance of about 900 feet, and opposite Oxford street, running southerly toward Thurber's avenue, a distance of about 1,000 feet to the property of the Consolidated Railroad; also, in East Providence, westerly from the location of the Providence, Warren & Bristol railroad and extending from the Wilkesburre pier property to Kettle Point; also in Pawtucket, on the westerly side of the Pawtucket river, south of the works of the Pawtucket Gas Company, and also on the east side of Pawtucket river, opposite the gas company works; said parcels to be of such shape and dimensions within the lines aforesaid as said board may determine. Another section provides that, in order that the commissioners may take the property by right of eminent domain, records of such action must be made in the town or city affected. As to the question of damages, where the board cannot agree with an owner, it is provided that there shall be a court of decision selected by the superior court and that any protest filed with the clerk of said court within one year after such property has been taken or injured will be entitled to a hearing. In addition to these powers thus conferred in acquiring property along the water front, the harbor commissioners are also allowed to make contracts for filling, improving and making use of all such parcels secured; may dredge channels thereto, regulate the taking of material from the harbor and fix lines thereon for filling flats and excavating docks; shall have charge of and administer all the public wharves, and may lease the same in parcels improved or otherwise for periods not exceeding 15 years. All taking of land and leases executed under the act are made subject to the approval of the governor and the senate.

The announcement is made by Rt. Rev. Bishop Matthew Harkins of the appointment of Rev. Owen F. Clarke, pastor of St. Teresa's Church, Providence, to succeed Rev. James C. Walsh as pastor of the Holy Name Church, Providence, a vacancy caused by the transfer of Rev. Father Walsh to St. Michael's Church, Providence, occasioned by the death of Rev. Father McDonough. Rev. Father Clarke celebrated his silver jubilee at St. Teresa's December 20, 1904. His reception was attended by many distinguished citizens, including a number of the most influential residents of the East Side, who had become acquainted with him through his church work in East Greenwich. To fill the vacancy at St. Teresa's parish, Bishop Harkins has appointed Rev. William S. Flynn, of Arcile Centre to that pastorate. Rev. Father Flynn is a native of South Providence, where his family now resides. His first assignment after being ordained was as assistant to Rev. Bernard Hoyland, pastor of St. Joseph's Church at Fall River. Father Flynn remained in Fall River 11 years and in 1895 was appointed pastor of St. James Church at Arctic Centre also St. Mary's Church at Crompton, succeeding Rev. James Brady. Rev. Edward H. Higney, assistant at St. Patrick's Church, in Providence, will become pastor of St. James Church, Arcile, to take the place left vacant by the transfer of Rev. Father Flynn.

Judging from the statement of Dr. Charles Chagnon, Warwick's health officer, the Pawtuxet valley is beginning to experience a slight epidemic of diphtheria, the first case of which was unearthed in the mill village of Arcile about three weeks ago. Wednesday night Dr. Warren E. Page of Phenix was called to the home of Albert Tellier, near Bakerville, to attend four children, who were afflicted with what the parents surmised might be sore throat. Dr. Page diagnosed the malady as diphtheria, and immediately notified Health Officer Chagnon. Thursday morning the latter visited the afflicted family, concurred in the opinion expressed by Dr. Page, and quarantined the house. The oldest patient is about 12 years old, and none appear to have the disease in an aggravated form. The situation of the Tellier home, removed as it is from other residences, reduces to a minimum the possibility of the disease spreading; in the opinion of the physicians. The house is hardly 100 feet inside the line dividing Warwick and Coventry, and for a time it was thought that the cases belonged to the latter town.

Several members of the classes which have graduated from the Classical High School, Providence, met yesterday afternoon to discuss plans for the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the principalship of William T. Peck. Colonel Robert P. Brown '67, presided at the meeting. The committee endorsed the plan previously proposed, that the alumni who had studied under Mr. Peck should be asked to contribute toward an oil portrait of him to be hung in the Classical High School building. It is planned to have this portrait finished by May 1, when the annual meeting of the alumni association will be held, the presentation to be made at that time. It was also suggested that an opportunity be given the several classes to hold reunions. The program for the anniversary celebration has not been arranged yet, but suggestions were made that it include a reception, appropriate addresses, presentation of the portrait, to conclude with a dance. Colonel Brown read a letter from William M. P. Bowen endorsing the plan.

GREETINGS:

WHEREAS, James S. Cowles and others, by their petition to the Board of Aldermen of the City of Newport in said State, have prayed said Board to declare the following described piece of land to be a public highway, to wit: that strip of land running from Cogeshall avenue to Carroll avenue about forty feet in width, said strip of land being commonly called and known as Bateman avenue, and representing that said highway has been quietly, peaceably and actually used and improved and considered as a public highway for the space of more than twenty years last past, AND it being shown to said Board that you are interested in, or have claims to said land through which said so-called street is laid, or some part thereof, said Board referred the consideration of said petition to the Third day of April, A. D. 1906, at 8 o'clock, P. M. in the Aldermanic Chamber in the City Hall in said Newport.

YOU are therefore, hereby notified to appear before said Board at said time and place, if you see fit, to show cause, if any you have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, and said piece or strip of land declared by said Board of Aldermen to be a public highway according to the statute in such case made and provided.

Ordered and given by said Board of Aldermen on the Sixth day of March, A. D. 1906.

Signed and sealed by order and in behalf of said Board of Aldermen by David Stevens, Clerk of said Board, on the day last aforesaid.

DANGEROUS FOR SHIPPING.

Severe Northeast Storm Sweeping the Virginia Coast.

NORFOLK, Va., March 24.—A severe northeast storm, with blinding snow, swept this coast today, making it dangerous for all shipping at sea and holding in port many sailing vessels.

The crew of wreckers on board the schooner Fannie Palmer at Little Island signalled the life savers today to come to their rescue, and an effort is now being made to get the men ashore.

LOST OVERBOARD IN BLIZZARD.

Gloucester Schooner's Flag at Half-Mast for Death of Her Captain.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., March 24.—Another life was reported lost in the great blizzard that ravaged the coast of the maritime provinces last Tuesday, when fishing schooner Agnes came into port today with her flag at half-mast for the death of Captain Goodwin, her skipper, who was washed overboard on the La Have bank, off Sable Island. The little schooner was riding out the storm close reefed when one big comber hoarded the craft, littering the deck with wreckage. While the crew clung for their lives to the lines stretched across the deck the captain crept forward to clear away the debris. A second wave tumbled down on the deck of the schooner, caught up the captain and before any of his crew could reach him swept him overboard. Nothing could be done to save him. Captain Goodwin leaves a widow and six children in this city. He formerly lived at Sandy Point, N. S.

SCHOONER LEJOK ARRIVES.

Brought in New York Harbor by a Steam Pilot Boat.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Steam pilot boat New York passed in quarantine about 8 o'clock this morning, having in tow water-logged schooner Lejok from Brunswick, Ga.

Steamer Persian arrived at Boston yesterday with the captain and crew of six men of the Lejok, who were taken off the schooner. Captain Norwood of the Lejok reported that he had been in collision with a schooner Thursday morning about 40 miles off Sandy Hook, Schooner Governor Ames arrived at Vineyard Haven yesterday in a damaged condition, as the result of a collision with another vessel, and no doubt she is the one which collided with the Lejok.

WITH HER CARGO ON FIRE.

English Steamer Trying to Make St. John's in Snowstorm.

ST. JOHN'S Newfoundland, March 24.—British freight steamer Titian, bound from New York for Manchester, England, is off Cape Race, with her cargo on fire. She reported her condition to a signal station at Cape Race this afternoon, and added that she was attempting to reach this port. A furious snowstorm is raging here, and it is feared that the steamer may not be able to make her way into the harbor.

SMALL FIRE AT FORT ADAMS.

About 12:20 yesterday afternoon a fire was discovered in No. 6 quarters at Fort Adams, occupied by Lieutenant Metcalf, post quartermaster. It had originally been a chimney fire, which worked into one of the rooms up stairs and got under the roof. The post fire department responded and laid hose, but the fire was put out by extinguishers and the bucket brigade without calling on the hydrant streams. Two rooms were considerably damaged, the plastering being torn down to make sure that no fire remained. The loss will be several hundred dollars, probably.

For some time past Captain Bowley had been giving the men practice in fire drills at the post, and that the practice was worth all the time given to it was clearly shown as the post fire details were prompt in responding and when they reached the scene got to work in a business-like way, kept the fire from spreading and extinguished it with the least possible loss. The men appreciated the benefits of the drills as well as did the officers. The fact that the men were called away from their dinner by the alarm was forgotten when they saw what good work they had been able to do.

TO PAY DAMAGES BY DOGS.

Those who have been awarded damages for loss occasioned by dogs to poultry, etc., during the past year can receive their money at the city treasurer's office after Monday next. The total amount to be paid, for loss and the cost of assessing damages, is $184.10, of which Newport pays $153.44, and Middletown and Portsmouth together $25.66. The ratio is as follows: Newport, 83.748 per cent. Middletown, 8.501 per cent; Portsmouth, 7.751 per cent. The dog licenses collected during the year were: Newport, $2,118; Middletown, $215; Portsmouth, $166.

"THE TENDERFOOT."

Oscar L. Figman and Ruth White will be seen here in Richard Carle's and H. L. Heartz's Western operatic comedy, "The Tenderfoot," Monday evening, April 2. Musically "The Tenderfoot" may be classed as one of the brightest light operatic works on the road. H. L. Heartz seemed to catch the spirit of outdoor life when he made the score for Mr. Carle's amusing book and the result has been some 20 catchy melodies, which have the advantage of being the kind people whistle.

Oscar Figman and Miss White will be best remembered by theatre-goers as the stars of the big revival of "The Burgomaster," which was seen two seasons ago. Mr. Figman is playing an entirely different role in "The Tenderfoot," that of Professor Pettibone, the gentle pedagogue who visits his nieces' ranch in Texas and is initiated into the mysteries of plains life by the raised crowd of Texas rangers, cowboys, senoritas, cowgirls and Mexicans shown in the piece. Miss White brings to the role of Marion a good soprano voice, beauty and dramatic ability.

The remainder of the cast is composed of well known people, including Jethro Warner a tenor of achievements; Fred Bailey, Harry B. Williams and Etta Lockhart, dancers; Louise Brackett, George Rosain and others. The chorus is large and contains as a novelty the famous "Dolly" girls, whose prettiness and singing ability went far toward assuring the success of the piece in New York and Chicago.

DISAGREE OVER WAGE QUESTION

150 Cutters Employed by Rockport Granite Company Go on Strike.

ROCKPORT, Mass., March 24.—One hundred and fifty cutters employed by the Rockport Granite Company went on strike today after failing to reach an agreement with the manufacturers over a wage question. The men had been getting $22.50 per thousand for paving blocks of a certain size. Early in the week they were ordered to cut blocks which they claimed were larger, for the same pay. An attempt to reach an agreement with the manufacturers failed and today's action followed. The Rockport company is the only concern at present affected.

NO NEARER AN AGREEMENT.

Joint Committees of Miners and Operators Again Meet.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 24.—When the joint scale committee of the joint conference of coal operators and united mine workers of the central competitive and southwestern districts met today there was no indication that the opposing sides were any nearer an agreement than when the January conference adjourned after the disagreement. The meeting of the committee of the central competitive district began at 10 o'clock. It was the understanding prior to the meeting that a vote would be taken early on the proposition of S. L. Robbins of the Western Pennsylvania operators, to restore the scale of 1903. The operators of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana were as determined in their opposition to the proposition as before and announced that they could defeat it. It was expected that a session of the joint conference would be called during the day to receive a report that the committee was not able to agree.

WINTRY COLD.

The cold last night was of the winter variety. It was the real thing, the temperature dropping to about 16 during the early hours and getting down to about 11 this morning. There was little wind, which made the cold less apparent than it might have been. Ice formed on the ponds and in the slips along the harbor. Today the cold is still of the wintry variety, but the sun makes the day look pleasant, especially in sheltered places. The wind is from the northeast.

AMERICAN WOMEN.

Mrs. Pingle, in the London Chronicle:

American women take little or no interest in politics. A woman taking a keen interest in politics is really so rare as to be abnormal. Women play no part in the elections. It shows how adaptable American women are that when they marry English husbands and come here they generally come to the front in electioneering.

What is the reason? Well, it simply is not the custom. All American men are interested in politics, whether they go in for them much or not, but it simply is not the custom for women to understand anything either about politics or business. American husbands, you know, never talk to their wives about professional or business affairs. And the wives interest themselves in literary and musical and artistic matters. As a result they have, perhaps, the finest opera and the finest concerts in the world. And of course in social matters the American woman is supreme.

Oh, no, I am not at all sorry to be back in England. I am very fond of England. All I mean is that in America men have to subordinate themselves entirely to women's interests. I don't say the women are the happier for it—I only say it is the fact.

Personally, I think the French method, where the wife is told everything about the money affairs, is the best. Of course, an American woman may be spending money lavishly while her husband is in actual difficulties—it often happens. The men take a pride in seeing the women magnificently dressed and in giving them jewels and fine houses. And yet the American man is not at all ostentatious for himself. However, I must say that if American women meet with great reverses of fortune they are always very courageous about them; the habit of mind is very philosophic in America. And they are always very bright and vivacious and extremely adaptable.

COOKING BY COLD.

[Literary Digest.]

That meat may be "cooked" by intense cold has been demonstrated by experiments with liquid air. That a less degree of cold may produce the same effect on vegetables, and that freezing potatoes or fruit may make them more edible than before is asserted by Dr. Ephraim Cutler in the Dietetic and Hygienic Gazette. Dr. Cutler says of a "frost-bitten" potato that he tested:

"It was shrunken, soft, limp and flaccid to the feel. It looked dark, as if rotten, and yet there was no dead and decaying odor. Under the microscope the starch grains were shrunken, cracked and fissured in the long and short diameters, wrinkled and polarized light beautifully. The form of polarization was not that of normal potato starch, difficult to be told in words. Besides, there were broken shreds of connective fibrous tissue that looked as if rotten. The writer tasted of the said so-called 'rotten potato' and it was sweet in his mouth. He thinks they might be eaten without harm."

Similar results were obtained with cranberries, onions and squashes. The frozen vegetables reacted with copper sulphate, which is one of the tests for cooked food, but the fact that their starch grains polarized the light showed that there was a difference, as cooking by heat destroys the polarization.

THE DIFFERENCE.

[Everybody's Magazine.]

F. Hopkinson Smith, painter, author, engineer, and professional optimist, tells a story showing that Boston boys of the street are like all others. He overheard a conversation between two youngsters selling newspapers.

"Say, Harry, what's de best way to teach a girl how to swim?" asked the younger one.

"Dat's a cinch. First off you puts your left arm under her waist and you gently takes her left hand——"

"Come off; she's my sister."

"Aw, push her off de dock."

REPORTS FROM CONSULS.

Give Valuable Information to the Bureau of Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Consul Dunning of Milan reports to the bureau of manufactures of the Department of Commerce and Labor on the methods of Italian manufacturers in building up their trade in the Philippine Islands. Lombardy shipped $380 in goods to Manila in 1903, $1,000 in 1904 and for the six months ending December 1905 the shipments from Milan to the Philippines amounted to over $38,000. Every article sent by the Italians, the report says, is being made in the United States, and include hats, paper, cottons, umbrellas, boots, milk, macaroni, paint, hemp, lamps, medicines, preserves, linen, soap, pottery and wearing material. Many of the "Manila" hats coveted by travelers and collectors, the consul adds, are made in Milan and shipped into the East by the gross.

"American shoes" are also made in Italy, Vice Consul Schlemmer writes from Mannheim, Germany, that he visited a number of shoe stores in that city which advertised American shoes. Some of the merchants admitted that their stocks were from Milan. One of the shoe store managers was an Italian, who said he saw no reason why American shoes should not be made in Italy just as well as in Massachusetts.

Special Agent Hutchinson writes to the bureau of manufactures from Antofagasta, describing the shipping facilities between the United States, Chili and Argentine. The recent attempt to break the "combination" rates from New York to the river Plate brought the freights of general merchandise so low as five cents per cubic foot, or less than half the rate from Liverpool. "The war" resulted, in the defeat of the competing line, and the rates from New York to Buenos Ayres have jumped to 13 and 15 cents per cubic foot. In Chili it is a common statement that freight rates from New York average one-third higher than from Europe, notwithstanding that the published rates would indicate just the reverse. The report says special concessions to European operate against American shipping, and predicts that with equal ocean transportation facilities the foreign trade of the United States would forge ahead more rapidly.

New steamship subsidies just awarded by the Portuguese government are announced by Consul General Hollis of Lourenco Marquez, who writes about the efforts of Portugal to extend its trade in Africa. A Portuguest steamship company is to receive $12,666 per monthly trip from Lisbon to Beira, $16,500 annual subsidy from the province of Angola and $50,000 more per annum from Mozambique colony as a subsidy for coastwise service. The company reciprocates by making lower freight rates between Portugal and east Africa. The Mozambique Mangrove bark is again available for tanning purposes, the Portuguese government having removed the export restrictions and renewed shipments to the United States are anticipated. A valuable rubber concession has been granted by Nicaragua, reports Consul Ryder of San Juan Del Norte, by which the concessionaire will profit $50,000 gold per year for 10 years, while the government will receive only $1,000 in full for the 10 years.

LOWEST COST $34,500.

Handling of Seed Packages by the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Postmaster General Cortelyou has supplied Representative Tawney, chairman of the House committee on appropriations, with a memorandum as to the actual cost of the Postoffice Department of handling the seeds furnished by the Department of Agriculture for free distribution. The Postmaster General states:

"As nearly as can be estimated the cost of carrying a pound of this mail matter varies from five to eight cents. I have been informed that the aggregate weight of vegetable and flower seeds distributed annually by the Department of Agriculture under frank is 600,000 pounds. The estimated number of packages is 7,500,000. Computing at the lowest estimate, five cents a pound—the cost of handling this matter is $21,500."

The Postmaster General says that while it is improbable any additional clerks or carriers are employed solely on account of this distribution it is nevertheless self-evident that the 7,500,000 packages clog the mails, and take up the time of a large number of clerks and carriers which might be otherwise profitably employed.

MEN EXHAUSTED BY OVERWORK.

Fight for Metropolitan Postoffice in Chicago Begun.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The fight for a metropolitan postoffice for Chicago, one that will compare favorably with that in New York and other Eastern cities has begun in earnest. C. M. Waters, general superintendent of the department of salaries and allowances, who has been here since last Saturday, departed yesterday for Washington, to make his report on the necessary help to give Chicago people and the 10 states tributary to this city their mail in reasonable time.

Meanwhile the postoffice is doing the best it can with short help, working over time until the men become exhausted with the long hours and are compelled to lay off in consequence of the strain. Half a dozen of the new men resigned their situations yesterday unable to keep up with the terrific pace required.

PARTY OF SEVEN MURDERED.

Mexicans Passing Through the Mountains Killed by Yaquis.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Los Angeles says: News has reached this city of the murder of five members of the family of Pedro Meza, presidente of La Dura, in Sonora, Mexico, and brother-in-law of Frederick A. Hartmann, president of the William Hoege Company of Los Angeles. Two others were massacred by Indians within a few miles of their home, and their bodies left in the roadway between Ortiz and La Dura until a sufficient number of Mexican troops could be sent to overawe the rabbling outlaws and bring in their victims.

The names of those killed are: Senor Pedro Meza, presidente of La Dura, a rich mining contractor and one of the most prominent men in the district; Senora Elvira Meza, wife of the presidente; Senoritas Carmen, Elpisa and Pancheita Meza, 18, 20 and 23 years of age, their daughters; Mrs. Wenceslao Hoff, an old friend of Meza; Theodore Hoff, 24 years of age, her only son.

Three members of the Meza family survive. They are the baby son of Pedro Meza and two young daughters, Mercedes and Elvira.

The children had been left at home in La Dura when the rest of the family drove in carriages to Guaymas. Returning from Guaymas the party stopped at Ortiz, and it is supposed they were joined there by Mrs. Hoff and her son. Here it is said they learned of the presence of a band of Yaquis in the Los Otates mountains near Otates pass, through which they would have to travel to reach La Dura and the mining camp where F. A. Hartmann owns large interests in silver and copper properties. The worst of the gorge was passed, and they had entered the wider valley when from every ledge and mountain came the fire from those they would be bound to protect. The last desperate stand was made in the shelter of the overturned carriage, and they fought back, dying but fighting to the last.

The story of the massacre was brought to Ortiz by an Indian letter carrier, who shortly afterward went through the pass on his trip with the mail, and who identified the bodies of those killed.

MYSTERIOUS THROAT DISEASE.

Mother and Child Die, as Well as Chickens and Birds.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—A despatch to the Oregonian from Albany, Ore., says: At Munkers in Linn county a mother and child are dead as the result of a mysterious disease or poison that attacks the throat. A large number of chickens similarly affected have died, as have large numbers of wild birds which have visited the place. The victims of the mysterious affliction are Mrs. Thomas McClain and her little daughter. A physician was called, and he pronounced Mrs. McClain suffering from apoplexy. She clutched continuously at her throat, but was unable to articulate. The sufferings of the little girl were ascribed to an attack of croup. That the chickens died of poisoning seems probable, and the neighbors believe that Mrs. McClain and her daughter died from some noxious drug. An investigation will be held.

THE DEWEY IN GOOD CONDITION.

Dry Dock Expected to Pass Through the Straits of Gibraltar Soon.

GIBRALTAR, March 24.—United States navy tug Potomac, one of the vessels conveying dry dock Dewey to the Philippine Islands, arrived here today from Las Palmas, Canary Islands. Her commander said that the Dewey, which left the Canary Islands March 15, will pass through the straits of Gibraltar Sunday evening or Monday morning next. The knowledge gained by the earlier experiences has enabled the American officers to avoid the difficulties previously encountered and the towing from Las Palmas is proceeding smoothly. Fair weather has prevailed and the dock is in good condition.

HYOMEI CURES CATARRH.

Its Healing Balsams Kill All Catarrhal Germs—Sold Under Guarantee by Wright and Hay.

It is a noteworthy fact that among the many medicines and treatments for catarrh, there is only one which Wright & Hay sell under their positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure,—Hyomei, Nature's remedy for the cure of catarrh.

No dangerous drugs are taken into the stomach when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the small pocket inhaler that comes with every Hyomei outfit, its healing balsams penetrate to the most remote cells of the throat, nose, and lungs, killing the germs of catarrh, healing the irritated mucous membrane, and making complete and lasting cures.

The complete Hyomei outfit, consisting of an inhaler that can be carried in the purse or vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei, costs only $1. The inhaler will last a lifetime, while extra bottles of Hyomei can be procured, whenever needed, for only 50 cents.

NOT TRULY DEMOCRATIC.

Proposed Charter Fails to Secure Two Main Desiderata in City Government.

To the Editor of the News:

Though not a voter or taxpayer in this city, perhaps our reasons for being opposed to the acceptance of the new charter may be of interest to some of the undecided voters, in which class we believe the majority of the citizens are on this proposition at the present time.

There are in our opinion two main desiderata in city governments, and neither of them will in our judgment be secured through the proposed form of organization, its only unquestioned advantage being the impossibility of a faction's gaining control under so large a governing body. The first desideratum is the centralization of executive powers and responsibilities to insure business efficiency. It is now generally recognized that city government is for the most part the conduct of public business enterprises, and certainly the public business of Newport, with its annual budget of about three quarters of a million dollars a year, is large enough to demand the best form of business organization. What would one think of the management of a corporation where the selection of the executive heads of the various departments was in the hands of 195 representatives of the stockholders?

The second desideratum is that the city administration's general policy—not such details as salaries or who shall be dog catcher, or for that matter who shall be street commissioner, for the people should be no more interested in the one position than in the other as long as the head executive is held responsible for the proper performance of the work—should be directly sanctioned by and under the control of the voters; that is, that it should reflect the will of the people. Now the present city government does in our opinion reflect the will of the people. The reason it is not ideal is because the people are not ideal. Will the proposed new form of government be the same? Its sponsors say "yes," and in fact they claim this is its chief merit—the merit that overbalances its acknowledged defect from a purely business standpoint. Now this all depends on whether the one-fifteenth or so of the qualified electors who will form the Republican Council will truly represent them; that is, take their place, form a reduced copy of the entire electorate. This to our mind is very doubtful. In fact, we think that the scheme when worked out in practice will be tantamount to the handing over of the electoral privilege to a minority of "leading citizens," who will take the place of the electors, who will no longer as now exercise a direct control of the policy of the administration.

One of the supporters of the new charter, in his communication printed in your columns, brings out in the following words the fact that the function of the member of the large council will be essentially the same as that of the voter whom he will displace: "These duties do not vary very much from those required of the citizens in voting upon city officers and bond propositions submitted to them." Now that the members of the large council will be a stratum rather than a cross section of the voters is of course a prediction, but we have it on two considerations; first, that where so large a number as 39 are to be elected from a single ward it would be most natural, indeed almost inevitable, to choose the men of some prominence in the ward, those who are known beyond their own doorsteps; second, that the election of leading citizens to the Republican Council is the plainly indicated end in some instances, the avowed purpose of the originators and supporters of the new movement. They say the "rabble," by which they mean the man who is not known beyond his own doorstep, control things now, and they want a change.

The true friends of democratic government are those who realize that there is no short cut to ideal conditions through the control of the few, but that the upward road of humanity is a slow and painful one and is by way of the gradual education of the people under democratic leadership. We hope that such will not be misled through false analogies and specious reasoning into supporting the proposed new charter now before the legislature.

How's Your Hair?

Wm. H. Cotton Announces That He Has at Last Secured a Cure for Hair Troubles.

We beg to announce to the people of Newport that we have secured the agency for one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. We refer to the prescription of Sir Erasmus Wilson, M. D., England's most successful specialist in diseases of the scalp, who was knighted for his many successes in the treatment of skin and scalp. Upon the death of Dr. Wilson this prescription was secured by American chemists and is now offered to the public under the name of Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair. This preparation will grow hair on bald heads even after all else fails. Unlike other hair preparations it is not sticky or greasy, but gives a live and glossy appearance to the hair. Miss Cornelia Stevens, 6 Smith avenue, Boston, Mass., says: "Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair grew a magnificent head of hair for me after I was told that I was becoming hopelessly bald. My hair now reaches nearly to my waist and is heavy and glossy. I cannot too highly recommend it." If you are growing bald, troubled with eruptions, dandruff scales or any scalp troubles try Dr. Wilson's Life to the Hair. Albert Chemical Co., Boston, Mass., proprietors. Sold by WM. H. COTTON, 226 Thames street. Price, 50 cents.

HANLEY'S PEERLESS ALE

Is a pure, wholesome brew from carefully selected materials by an expert brewer. No better ale is brewed in America. Dr. Josiah Oldfield, of London, England, member of the Royal College of Surgeons, says:

"I regard the ale of old England as one of the most important causes of the stamina and growth of the English people. To my mind it is not the alcohol of the ale, but the salts obtained from the barley, wherein consists the merit of the beverage."

This sentiment has been approved by thousands of physicians and other eminent authorities.

Rate Legislation in Operation Two Years in Canada.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Before sailing on the Celtic, of the White Star line, yesterday, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, expressed his convictions concerning the legislation for railroad rate regulation now under discussion in the Senate at Washington.

He said: "It is my opinion that the railroads are making altogether too much opposition to the proposed regulation. It seems to me that the people are entitled to regulate rates. It is therefore only a question as to the best method of securing that end. Rate regulation in Canada, under the control of a federal railway commission, created by an act of Parliament, has now been in operation for two years, and is satisfactory to both the railroad and the shippers. However it may be accomplished, I am clear that the result would be better under government regulation of rates."

DUTY MUST BE PAID.

Claim Filed Regarding Admittance of Canadian Horses.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The board of the United States general appraisers overruled yesterday a claim filed by A. S. Wilson of Newport, Vt., regarding the admittance of Canadian horses into this country. It was maintained by the importer that the animals were imported for breeding purposes and a certificate to this effect, giving the pedigree of the animals, was submitted from the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada. It was ruled that the pedigree certificates were insufficient to admit the horses free of duty, as the organization issuing the certificates is not recognized by the Treasury Department.

ESCAPED WITH SCALP WOUND.

Man Struck by Train and Hurled to Top of 30-Foot Embankment.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Struck by a train running at 60 miles an hour and hurled to the top of a 30-foot embankment, Charles Van Ward, a watchman, today, escaped with no more serious injuries than a scalp wound and minor bruises. Van Ward was walking on the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street and Park avenue. He did not notice the approach of a fast mail train, north bound, being closely bundled up as protection against the cold. He was directly in the middle of the track when the train struck him and hurled him onto an embankment 30 feet high. A policeman who witnessed the accident sent Van Ward to a hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

PLEAD FOR SON'S LIFE.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Send Letter to Governor Guild.

BOSTON, March 24.—The letter to Governor Guild, written by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tucker, in which an appeal for executive clemency is made in behalf of their son, Charles L. Tucker, now under sentence of death for the murder of Mabel Page, was made public at the state house today. The letter follows:

"Auburndale, March 22, 1906.

"To His Honor, Curtis Guild, Jr., Governor of Massachusetts.

"Dear Sir: As my son's case will soon come before you for consideration, we, his parents, beseech you to be merciful and see that justice is done to one who has been most disgracefully and unjustly convicted of a crime that he is entirely innocent of. He did not have a fair and impartial trial. Much of the testimony in his favor was not allowed in court and a verdict rendered not in accordance with the evidence. If the new evidence since the trial had been rightfully and justly considered it would have warranted a new trial, in which case he would now be free. He was not even given the benefit of a doubt as to his guilt, to which he was entitled.

"The above is the belief of clergymen and lawyers, in fact of a very large majority of the people in this and other states, and we trust and believe and implore you in your official position to commute the sentence in justice to him and to humanity and to give him his just dues; a pardon should be granted at the same time and stop these ignominious proceedings, for he has already been a great sufferer for the deed of another.

"Let the guilty, not the innocent, suffer. This is the earnest pleading of a father and mother.

"Yours most respectfully,

"Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tucker."

To this letter the following reply was sent:

"March 22, 1906.

"Dear Sir: I am directed by his excellency, the governor, to acknowledge receipt of the letter signed by you and Mrs. Tucker of the twenty-second inst., and to assure you that when this case is presented to him in a formal manner he will give it most serious and conscientious consideration.

"Charles F. Gettemy,
Secretary to the Governor."

PENSION CALENDAR CLEARED.

House Takes Up Senate Bill to Prevent Hazing at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—After clearing the pension calendar of 250 bills the House today will put on its passage the Senate bill for the prevention of hazing at Annapolis Naval Academy. This order was made by the adoption without opposition of a special rule presented by Mr. Dalzell from the committee on rules. The pension legislation was begun at once.

The pension legislation was completed in an hour, and the hazing bill was at once taken up. Mr. Bixey (Va.) proposed a substitute and Mr. Vreeland (N. Y.), chairman of the special committee on hazing, detailed his impressions resulting from the inquiry. He reviewed the preliminary trouble between Midshipmen Meriwether and Branch, leading to the fight which resulted in the death of Branch. Branch, he said, had insulted Meriwether by criticising the appearance of a picture of his grandmother and of the spelling of a letter from her.

"I say that a boy who would not resent such an insult is not fit to carry his country's flag or a commission in the navy," ejaculated Mr. Vreeland to the applause of members. He felt, in view of the purpose of the education at Annapolis, that a prison discipline was not the proper one; that so far as possible the cadet body should be self-governing. In his judgment, the academy officials already had taken the necessary steps to enforce discipline.

Mr. Vreeland condemned the present hazing law, which left no discretion but to dismiss a boy for hazing when 10 demerits might be sufficient punishment for the particular offence. As to the sentence of Midshipman Meriwether to confinement for a year, he declared a providential pardon ought to be granted.

Overdue Steamer Sighted.

BOSTON, March 24.—Eight days overdue from Algiers, Stag line steamer Ixia was sighted passing Highland light his morning for this port. The ship was last reported at Tarifa March 21. She had a cargo of macaroni and marble, and the unusually severe series of March gales has held her back, as it has nearly all trans-Atlantic liners which have come in this week from two to three days late.

AMERICANS TAKE PART.

Annual Oxford-Cambridge Field Sports in London Held in Snowstorm.

LONDON, March 24.—The annual Oxford-Cambridge field sports were held at the Queen's Club here today in a snowstorm. A small crowd was present and the track was in a wretched condition. Oxford won by seven events to three. American Rhodes scholarship students competed in five events, but with the exception of P. M. Young of the University of South Dakota they did not win a first. Young won the high and long jumps.

FOR RICE CHESS TROPHY.

International Cable Match Begins in London and New York.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Play in the international cable chess match for the possession of the Isaac L. Rice intercollegiate trophy began today with the six representatives of Pennsylvania, Cornell and Brown opposed to a sextet representing Oxford and Cambridge. The Americans were stationed in the chess rooms of Professor Rice's home in this city, while the Englishmen played their sides of the games from their headquarters in London. With the time limit of 24 moves an hour, it is expected to reach a verdict by 7 o'clock this evening, at which time any games remaining unfinished will be adjudicated by the referee, W. E. Napier. Professor Rice's trophy, now held by the British players, is a handsome silver shield, valued at $1,300. No match has been played for it since 1903, when the Englishmen won.

Following are the pairings and openings adopted:

America.	England.	Openings.
1 Hughes	Greenhalgh.	Ruy lopez
2 Mitchell.	Palee	Queen's gambit dec
3 Miller.	Houghton.	Two knights def
4 Kirkpatrick.	Hanning	Queens gambit

NEW YORK, March 24, Wall Street—The stock market opened heavy, with Amalgamated Copper at 106⅛, American Smelting 156⅝, Anaconda 265½, Atchison 92⅞, Brooklyn Transit 83, Canadian Pacific 171⅝, Erie 42⅝, Louisville 150⅝, Missouri Pacific 94⅝, Northern Pacific 216⅝, Ontario & Western 50⅝, Pennsylvania 137⅝, Reading 132, St. Paul 174⅝, Southern Pacific 67⅝, Southern Railway 40½, Union Pacific 152⅝, United States Steel 39⅝, United States Steel preferred 105¼.

10—Opening prices in the stock market today generally followed the downward course of the London market. Declines were small and dealings were on a very light scale. Reading fell ⅝, measuring the maximum changes in the market.

11—The uncertain movement of Reading, which fluctuated between 132 and 132⅞, caused contracted dealings in other prominent stocks. The market, however, was generally heavy in tone, but only a few stocks declined to a noteworthy extent. Canadian Pacific controlled stocks were conspicuously strong. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie rose 2⅝, the preferred 2, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic 2, the preferred 1¼, Northwestern 1 and Brooklyn Union Gas 2. The declines reached a point in Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Locomotive and Lead.

Closing—Money on call, nominal; no loans; time loans, steady; prime mercantile paper, 5 @ 5½ per cent; sterling exchange, steady, at $4.85.45 @ $4.85.55 for demand and at $4.82.10 @ $4.82.50 for 60 day bills; posted rates, $4.83 @ ½ and $4.86½ @ 7; commercial bills, $4.82 @ ⅛; bar silver, 65⅛; Mexican dollars, 50; government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular. A recession of 1⅛ in Reading had a slight effect on the general list, but prices hardened again after the appearance of the bank statement. Dealings were unimportant and there was no well defined tendency. International Pump preferred rose 2 on a few fractions. The closing was irregular and very dull.

REPORTS FROM CONSULS.

Give Valuable Information to the Bureau of Manufactures.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Consul Dunning of Milan reports to the bureau of manufactures of the Department of Commerce and Labor on the methods of Italian manufacturers in building up their trade in the Philippine Islands. Lombardy shipped $380 also goods to Manila in 1905, $1,000 in goods to Manila in 1901 and for the six months ending December 1905 the shipments from Milan to the Philippines amounted to over $35,000. Every article sent by the Italians, the report says, is being made in the United States, and includes hats, paper, cottons, umbrellas, shoes, machinery, paint, hemp, soap, pottery and wearing material. Many of the "Manila" hats covered by travelers and collectors, the consul adds, are made in Milan and shipped into the East by the gross.

"American shoes" are also made in Italy. Vice Consul Seidenmayer writes from Mannheim, Germany, that he visited a number of shoe stores in that city which advertised American shoes. Some of the merchants admitted that their stocks were from Milan. One of the shoe store managers was an Italian, who said he saw no reason why American shoes should not be made in Italy just as well as in Massachusetts.

Special Agent Hutchinson writes to the bureau of manufactures from Antofagasta, describing the shipping facilities between the United States, Chili and Argentina. The recent attempt to break the "combination" rates from New York to the river plates brought the freights of general merchandise as low as five cents per cubic foot, or less than half the rate from Liverpool. "The war" resulted in the defeat of the competing line, and the rates from New York to Buenos Ayres have jumped to 15 and 16 cents per cubic foot. In Chili it is a common statement that freight rates from New York average one-third higher than from Europe, notwithstanding that the published rates would indicate just the reverse. The report says special concessions to Europeans operate against American shipping, and predicts that with equal ocean transportation facilities the foreign trade of the United States would forge ahead more rapidly.

New steamship subsidies just awarded by the Portuguese government are announced by Consul General Hollis of Lourenco Marquez, who writes about the efforts of Portugal to extend its trade in Africa. A Portuguese steamship company is to receive $12,000 per monthly trip from Lisbon to Beira, $10,000 annual subsidy for the province of Angola and $36,000 more per annum from Mozambique colony as a subsidy for coast-wise service. The company reciprocates by making lower freight rates between Portugal and east Africa. The Mozambique Mangrove bark is again available for tanning purposes, the Portuguese government having removed the export restrictions and renewed shipments to the United States are anticipated. A valuable rubber concession has been granted by Nicaragua, reports Consul Ryder of San Juan Del Norte, by which the concessionaire will profit $50,000 gold per year for 10 years, while the government will receive only $1,000 in full for the 10 years.

LOWEST COST $34,500.

Handling of Seed Packages by the Postoffice Department.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Postmaster General Cortelyou has supplied Representative Towney, chairman of the House committee on appropriations, with a memorandum as to the actual cost of the Postoffice Department of handling the seeds furnished by the Department of Agriculture for free distribution. The Postmaster General states:

"As nearly as can be estimated the cost of carrying a pound of this mail matter varies from five to eight cents. I have been informed that the aggregate weight of vegetable and flower seeds distributed annually by the Department of Agriculture, under frank is 690,690 pounds. The estimated number of packages is 7,300,000. Computing at the lowest estimate—five cents a pound—the cost of handling this matter is $34,500."

The Postmaster General says that while it is improbable any additional clerks or carriers are employed solely on account of this distribution it is nevertheless self-evident that the 7,300,000 packages clog the mails, and take up the time of a large number of clerks and carriers which might be otherwise profitably employed.

MEN EXHAUSTED BY OVERWORK.

Fight for Metropolitan Postoffice in Chicago Begun.

CHICAGO, March 24.—The fight for a metropolitan postoffice for Chicago, one that will compare favorably with that in New York and other Eastern cities has begun in earnest. C. M. Waters, general superintendent of the department of salaries and allowances, who has been here since last Saturday, departed yesterday for Washington, to make his report on the necessity help to give Chicago people and the 12 states tributary to this city their mail in reasonable time.

Meanwhile the postoffice is doing the best it can with short help, working over time until the men become exhausted with the long hours and are compelled to lay off in consequence of the strain. Half a dozen of the new men resigned their situations yesterday unable to keep up with the terrific pace required.

PARTY OF SEVEN MURDERED.

Mexicans Passing Through the Mountains Killed by Yaquis.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 24.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Los Angeles says: News has reached this city of the murder of five members of the family of Pedro Meza, presidente of La Dura, in Sonora, Mexico, and brother-in-law of Frederick A. Hartmann, president of the William Hoege Company of Los Angeles. Two others were massacred by Indians within a few miles of their home, and their bodies left in the roadway between Ortiz and La Dura until a sufficient number of Mexican troops could be sent to overawe the rabbling outlaws and bring in their victims.

The names of those killed are: Senor Pedro Meza, presidente of La Dura, a rich mining contractor and one of the most prominent men in the district; Senora Elvira Meza, wife of the president; Senoritas Carmen, Eloisa and Panchetta Meza, 18, 20 and 23 years of age, their daughters; Mrs. Wenceslao Hoff, an old friend of Meza; Theodore Hoff, 21 years of age, her only son.

Three members of the Meza family survive. They are the baby son of Pedro Meza and two young daughters, Mercedes and Elvira.

The children had been left at home in La Dura when the rest of the family drove in carriages to Guayamas. Returning from Guayamas the party stopped at Ortiz, and it is supposed they were joined there by Mrs. Hoff and her son. Here it is said they learned of the presence of a band of Yaquis in the Los Otates mountains near Otates pass, through which they would have to travel to reach La Dura and the mining camp where D. A. Hartmann owns large interests in silver and copper properties. The worst of the gorge was passed, and they had entered the wider valley when from every ledge and mountain came the crack of rifles. The men charged desperately up the slopes, rolling upon their heads a rain of lead to divert the fire from those they would be bound to protect. The last desperate stand was made in the shelter of the overturned carriage, and they fought back, dying but fighting to the last.

The story of the massacre was brought to Ortiz by an Indian letter carrier, who shortly afterward went through the pass on his trip with the mail, and who identified the bodies of those killed.

MYSTERIOUS THROAT DISEASE.

Mother and Child Die, as Well as Chickens and Birds.

PORTLAND, Ore., March 24.—A despatch to the Oregonian from Albany, Ore., says: At Monkers in Linn county a mother and child are dead as the result of a mysterious disease or poison that attacks the throat. A large number of chickens similarly affected have died, as have large numbers of wild birds which have visited the place. The victims of the mysterious affliction are Mrs. Thomas McClain and her little daughter. A physician was called, and he pronounced Mrs. McClain suffering from apoplexy. She clutched continuously at her throat, but was unable to articulate. The sufferings of the little girl were ascribed to an attack of croup. That the chickens died of poisoning seems probable, and the neighbors believe that Mrs. McClain and her daughter died from some noxious drug. An investigation will be held.

THE DEWEY IN GOOD CONDITION.

Dry Dock Expected to Pass Through the Straits of Gibraltar Soon.

GIBRALTAR, March 24.—United States navy tug Potomac, one of the vessels conveying dry dock Dewey to the Philippine Islands, arrived here today from Las Palmas, Canary Islands. Her commander said that the Dewey, which left the Canary islands March 18, will pass through the straits of Gibraltar Sunday evening or Monday morning next. The knowledge gained by the earlier experiences has enabled the American officers to avoid the difficulties previously encountered and the towing from Las Palmas is proceeding smoothly. Fair weather has prevailed and the dock is in good condition.

NOT TRULY DEMOCRATIC.

Proposed Charter Fails to Secure Two Main Desiderata in City Government.

To the Editor of the News:

Though not a voter or taxpayer in this city, perhaps our reasons for being opposed to the acceptance of the new charter may be of interest to some of the undecided voters, in which class we believe the majority of the citizens are on this proposition at the present time.

There are in our opinion two main desiderata in city governments, and neither of them will in our judgment be secured through the proposed form of organization, its only unquestioned advantage being the impossibility of a faction's gaining control under so large a governing body. The first desideratum is the centralization of executive powers and responsibilities to insure business efficiency. It is now generally recognized that city government is for the most part the conduct of public business enterprises, and certainly the public business of Newport, with its annual budget of about three quarters of a million dollars a year, is large enough to demand the best form of business organization. What would one think of the management of a corporation where the selection of the executive heads of the various departments was in the hands of 135 representatives of the stockholders?

The second desideratum is that the city administration's general policy—not such details as salaries or who shall be dog catcher, or for that matter who shall be street commissioner, for the people should be no more interested in the one position than in the other as long as the head executive is held responsible for the proper performance of the work—should be directly sanctioned by and under the control of the voters; that is, that it should reflect the will of the people. Now the present city government does in our opinion reflect the will of the people. The reason it is not ideal is because the people are not ideal. Will the proposed new form of government do the same? Its sponsors say "yes," and in fact they claim this is its chief merit—the merit that overbalances its acknowledged defect from a purely business standpoint. Now this all depends on whether the one-fifteenth or so of the qualified electors who will form the Republican Council will truly represent them; that is, take their place, form a reduced copy of the entire electorate. This to our mind is very doubtful. In fact, we think that the scheme when worked out in practice will be tantamount to the handing over of the electoral privilege to a minority of "leading citizens," who will take the place of the electors, who will no longer as now exercise a direct control of the policy of the administration.

One of the supporters of the new charter, in his communication printed in your columns, brings out in the following words the fact that the function of the member of the large council will be essentially the same as that of the voter whom he will displace: "These duties do not vary very much from those required of the citizens in voting upon city officers and bond propositions submitted to them." Now will be a stratum rather than a cross section of the voters is of course a precaution, but we have it on two considerations; first, that where so large a number as 25 are to be elected from a single ward it would be most natural, indeed almost inevitable, to choose the men of some prominence in the ward, those who are known beyond their own doorstep; second, that the election of leading citizens to the Republican Council is the plainly indicated aim of some instances the avowed purpose of the originators and supporters of the new movement. They say the "rank and file," by which they mean the man who is not known beyond his own doorstep, control things now, and they want a change.

The true friends of democratic government are those who realize that there is no short cut to ideal conditions through the control of the few, but that the upward road of humanity is a slow and painful one and is by way of the gradual education of the people under democratic leadership. We hope that such will not be misled through false analogies and specious reasoning into supporting the proposed new charter now before the legislature.

How's Your Hair?

Wm. H. Cotton Announces That He Has at Last Secured a Cure for Hair Troubles.

We beg to announce to the people of Newport that we have secured the agency for one of the greatest discoveries of recent years. We refer to the prescription of Sir Erasmus Wilson, M. D., England's most successful specialist in diseases of the scalp, who was knighted for his many successes in the treatment of skin and scalp. Upon the death of Dr. Wilson this prescription was secured by American chemists and is now offered to the public under the name of Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair. This preparation will grow hair on bald heads even after all else fails. Unlike other hair preparations it is not sticky or greasy, but gives a live and glossy appearance to the hair. Miss Cornelia Stevens, 6 Smith avenue, Boston, Mass., says: "Dr. Wilson's English Life to the Hair grew a magnificent head of hair for me after I was told that I was becoming hopelessly bald. My hair now reaches nearly to my waist and is heavy and glossy. I cannot too highly recommend it." If you are growing bald, troubled with eruptions, dandruff scales or any scalp troubles try Dr. Wilson's Life to the Hair. Albert Chemical Co., Boston, Mass., proprietors. Sold by WM. H. COTTON, 250 Thames street. Price, 50 cents.

Rate Legislation in Operation Two Years in Canada.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Before sailing on the Celtic, of the White Star line, yesterday, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, expressed his convictions concerning the legislation for railroad rate regulation now under discussion in the Senate at Washington.

He said: "It is my opinion that the railroads are making altogether too much opposition to the proposed regulation. It seems to me that the people are entitled to regulate rates. It is therefore only a question as to the best method of securing that end. Rate regulation in Canada, under the control of a federal railway commission, created by an act of Parliament, has now been in operation for two years, and is satisfactory to both the railroad and the shippers. However it may be accomplished, I am clear that the result would be better under government regulation of rates."

DUTY MUST BE PAID.

Claim Filed Regarding Admittance of Canadian Horses.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The board of the United States general appraisers overruled yesterday a claim filed by A. S. Wilson of Newport, Vt., regarding the admittance of Canadian horses into this country. It was maintained by the importer that the animals were imported for breeding purposes and a certificate to this effect, giving the pedigree of the animals, was submitted from the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada. It was ruled that the pedigree certificates were insufficient to admit the horses free of duty, as the organization issuing the certificates is not recognized by the Treasury Department.

ESCAPED WITH SCALP WOUND.

Man Struck by Train and Hurled to Top of 30-Foot Embankment.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Struck by a train running at 60 miles an hour and hurled to the top of a 30-foot embankment, Charles Van Ward, a watchman, today, escaped with no more serious injuries than a scalp wound and minor bruises. Van Ward was walking on the tracks of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad at One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street and Park avenue. He did not notice the approach of a fast mail train, north bound, being closely bundled up as protection against the cold. He was directly in the middle of the track when the train struck him and hurled him quite an embankment 30 feet high. A policeman who witnessed the accident sent Van Ward to a hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not serious.

PLEAD FOR SON'S LIFE.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Send Letter to Governor Guild.

BOSTON, March 24.—The letter to Governor Guild, written by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tucker, in which an appeal for executive clemency is made in behalf of their son, Charles L. Tucker, now under sentence of death for the murder of Mabel Page, was made public at the state house today. The letter follows:

"Auburndale, March 22, 1906.

"To His Honor, Curtis Guild, Jr., Governor of Massachusetts.

"Dear Sir: As my son's case will soon come before you for consideration, we, his parents, beseech you to be merciful and see that justice is done to one who has been most disgracefully and unjustly convicted of a crime that he is entirely innocent of. He did not have a fair and impartial trial. Much of the testimony in his favor was not allowed in court and a verdict rendered not in accordance with the evidence. If the new evidence since the trial had been rightfully and justly considered it would have warranted a new trial, in which case he would now be free.

He was not even given the benefit of a doubt as to his guilt, to which he was entitled.

"The above is the belief of clergymen and lawyers. In fact of a very large majority of the people in this and other states, and we trust and believe and implore you in your official position to commute the sentence in justice to him and to humanity and to give him his just dues; a pardon should be granted at the same time and stop these ignominious proceedings, for he has already been a great sufferer for the deed of another.

"Let the guilty, not the innocent, suffer. This is the earnest pleading of a father and mother.

"Yours most respectfully,

"Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Tucker."

To this letter the following reply was sent:

"March 22, 1906.

"Dear Sir: I am directed by his excellency, the governor, to acknowledge receipt of the letter signed by you and Mrs. Tucker of the twenty-second inst., and to assure you that when this case is presented to him in a formal manner he will give it most serious and conscientious consideration.

"Charles F. Gettemy,
Secretary to the Governor."

PENSION CALENDAR CLEARED.

House Takes Up Senate Bill to Prevent Hazing at Annapolis.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—After clearing the pension calendar of 250 bills the House today will put on its passage the Senate bill for the prevention of hazing at Annapolis Naval Academy. This order was made by the adoption without opposition of a special rule presented by Mr. Meizell from the committee on rules. The pension legislation was begun at once.

The pension legislation was completed in an hour, and the hazing bill was at once taken up. Mr. Rixey (Va.) proposed a substitute and Mr. Vreeland (N. Y.), chairman of the special committee on hazing, detailed his impressions resulting from the inquiry. He reviewed the preliminary trouble between Midshipmen Meriwether and Branch, leading to the fight which resulted in the death of Branch. Branch, he said, had insulted Meriwether by criticising the appearance of a picture of his grandmother and of the spelling of a letter from her.

"I say that a boy who would not resent such an insult is not fit to carry his country's flag or a commission in the navy," ejaculated Mr. Vreeland to the applause of members. He felt, in view of the purpose of the education at Annapolis, that a prison discipline was not the proper one; that so far as possible the cadet body should be self-governing. In his judgment, the academy officials already had taken the necessary steps to enforce discipline.

Mr. Vreeland condemned the present hazing law, which left no discretion but to dismiss a boy for hazing when 10 demerits might be sufficient punishment for the particular offence. As to the sentence of Midshipman Meriwether to confinement for a year, he declared a providential pardon ought to be granted.

Overdue Steamer Sighted.

BOSTON, March 24.—Eight days overdue from Algiers, Sag line steamer Ixia was sighted passing Highland light his morning for this port. The ship was last reported at Tarifa March 21. She had a cargo of macaroni and marble, and the unusually severe series of March gales has held her back, as it has nearly all trans-Atlantic liners which have come in this week from two to three days late.

AMERICANS TAKE PART.

Annual Oxford-Cambridge Field Sports in London Held in Snowstorm.

LONDON, March 24.—The annual Oxford-Cambridge field sports were held at the Queen's Club here today in a snowstorm. A small crowd was present and the track was in a wretched condition. Oxford won by seven events to three. American Rhodes scholarship students competed in five events, but with the exception of P. M. Young of the University of South Dakota they did not win a first. Young won the high and long jumps.

FOR RICE CHESS TROPHY.

International Cable Match Begins in London and New York.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Play in the international cable chess match for the possession of the Isaac L. Rice intercollegiate trophy began today with the six representatives of Pennsylvania, Cornell and Brown opposed to a sextet representing Oxford and Cambridge. The Americans were stationed in the chess rooms of Professor Rice's home in this city, while the Englishmen played their sides of the games from their headquarters in London. With the time limit of 24 moves an hour, it is expected to reach a verdict by 1 o'clock this evening, at which time any games remaining unfinished will be adjudicated by the referee, W. E. Napier. Professor Rice's trophy, now held by the British players, is a handsome silver shield, valued at $1,000. No match has been played for it since 1903, when the Englishmen won.

Following are the pairings and openings adopted:

	America.	England.	Openings.
1	Hughes	Greenhalgh.	Ruy lopez
2	Mitchell.	Pake	Queens gambit dec
3	Miller.	Roughton.	Two knights def
4	Kirkpatrick.	Hamilg	Queens gambit
5	Sweet	Lane.	Ruy lopez
6	Johnston.	Bullough.	Sicilian def

The Americans have the move on boards 1, 3, and 5.

Hughes, Miller, Kirpatrick and Johnston are all students at the University of Pennsylvania. Mitchell represents Cornell and Sweet, Brown. Of the Englishmen, Pake, Roughton and Hamming are all Oxford men; the rest hail from Cambridge.

Reported by Wireless.

The Painting of a Town.

In selecting a paint, it is safe to follow the majority. People who are careless about other things should be particular as to what they paint their house with. Lead, Zinc and Linseed Oil are considered standard and are used by the majority.

NEW YORK, March 24, Wall Street—The stock market opened heavy, with Amalgamated Copper at 106½. American Smelting 156¾, Anaconda 265½, Atchison 82¾, Brooklyn Transit 83, Canadian Pacific 121¾, Erie 42¾, Louisville 156¾, Missouri Pacific 94¾, Northern Pacific 216¾, Ontario & Western 50⅛, Pennsylvania 137¾, Reading 132, St. Paul 174⅜, Southern Pacific 67⅝, Southern Railway 40½, Union Pacific 152⅜, United States Steel 39⅝, United States Steel preferred 105¼.

10—Opening prices in the stock market today generally followed the downward course of the London market. Declines were small and dealings were on a very light scale. Reading fell ⅝, measuring the maximum changes in the market.

11—The uncertain movement of Reading, which fluctuated between 132 and 132⅝, caused contracted dealings in other prominent stocks. The market, however, was generally heavy in tone, but only a few stocks declined to a noteworthy extent. Canadian Pacific controlled stocks were conspicuously strong. Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie rose 2⅜, the preferred 2, Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic 2, the preferred 1¼, Northwestern 1 and Brooklyn Union Gas 2. The declines reached a point in Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Locomotive and Lead.

Closing—Money on call, nominal; no loans; time loans, steady; prime mercantile paper, 5 @ 5½ per cent; sterling exchange, steady, at $4.85.45 for $4.85.55 for demand and at $4.82.40 @ $4.82.50 for 60 day bills; posted rates, $4.83 @ ½ and $4.86½ @ 7; commercial bills, $4.82 @ 5; bar silver, 65¾; Mexican dollars, 50; government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular. A recession of 1¼ in Reading and a slight effect on the general list, but prices hardened again after the appearance of the bank statement. Dealings were unimportant and there was no well defined tendency. International Pump preferred rose 2 on a few cross-lings. The closing was irregular and very dull.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mrs. Carol Harrington, an aged woman, who lives alone on Hedly street, was found on the lounge in her home Thursday afternoon in an unconscious condition, having sustained a partial paralytic shock, from which she has not as yet recovered consciousness sufficient to tell the time of her seizure, but from conditions it is thought it must have been some hours before, and perhaps the preceding day. Her son, Mr. John L. C. Harrington, and wife are with her.

The Oliphant Reading Club met with Mrs. Clara E. Dennis Friday afternoon. The usual program was varied, one feature being the solving of four sets of questions, the answers gained from illustrations, pictures, descriptions and rhymes. Mrs. Gertrude Wilbur answered the largest number. The quotations were miscellaneous. Miss Susan Manchester read an interesting article on William Ellery and Mrs. Edward Almy and Mrs. William J. Jones "Philippa's Nervous Prostration."

Mr. Joseph Brazil is seriously ill with erysipelas in his face and head.

Mrs. Silas Davol of Bristol Ferry passed safely through a delicate operation at the Rhode Island Hospital Tuesday.

Mr. William E. Barker continues very ill.

Mrs. J. A. Sisson is ill and under the care of a physician.

Mrs. Abner P. Lawton, who has been for some weeks at Mr. Henry Congdon's in Middletown, has returned home. Mr. Congdon's youngest son is caring for him.

Mrs. William N. Randall was in Riverside Saturday, and her son, Master Norman Randall, who has been spending a number of weeks with his uncle, Mr. Perry C. Randall, has now gone to his grandmother's at Riverside.

request for repetition. This concluded the ceremonies in the smaller hall, and after the council was formally closed the hosts and guests were marshalled by Guide Horace S. Brown of Coronet Council for the march across the street to the larger hall in the Realty company's building for the banquet.

The hall was set with six tables, five running the length of the room, with the sixth across the head and used as the "guest table." As the company marched into the hall the Harry K. Howard orchestra played a march, and during the banquet rendered a pleasing program of popular airs. The hall was decorated with palms on the platform and two large American flags, and the emblematic crown occupied a place of honor in the centre of the head table. The following menu was served by Aronson and an efficient corps of waiters:

Oysters on Half Shell.
Consomme.
Olives. Radishes.
Roast Turkey, Stuffed.
Cranberry Sauce. Mashed Potatoes.
Turnips.
Chicken Salad.

ceremonies, again extended a welcome to the guests, and in turn announced the speakers of the evening. The principal address was by Past Supreme Regent W. Holt Apgar, who was introduced after the toastmaster had read letters from Supreme Regent Horace C. Wiggin and Supreme Secretary W. O. Robson, expressing regret at their inability to be present. Past Supreme Regent Apgar spoke at length on matters relating to the Royal Arcanum, and brought felicitations from the councils of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, where Arcanum matters are having a new boom.

Grand Regent George W. Tilley spoke of the hearty support he had received during the trying year in which he had held the office, and his pleasure at the enthusiasm which had been shown in this large gathering of Royal Arcanum members on the last visitation in his official position. He also expressed his appreciation of the attitude of Coronet Council towards him, and his belief that his successor would always have the same loyalty and good feeling shown him by the Newport council.

Past Regent Burrows responded for Haskell Council and made a hit with his speech. It was expected to have had other speakers, including Deputy Grand Regent Norman H. Cheney, "Coronet's Deputy," Supreme Representative William J. Banspach and Past Grand Regent Andrew K. McMahon, but the lateness of the hour and the fact that cars, not even special cars, wait for no man, and that the visitors had to leave at midnight necessarily cut the program short, much to the regret of every one.

A pleasing part of the entertainment

following the banquet was the music and reading furnished by the Lyric Trio and others of Providence, under the direction of Mr. D. A. Mathewson. The Lyric Trio sang "The Kavanagh," the duet, "La Miserere," from "Il Trovatore," the well known sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor," and a medley of popular airs, and they sang well, whether the selections were from grand opera or of less pretentious music, and the auditors grew very enthusiastic over the successive numbers, the applause which greeted the "Lucia" sextette proving an ovation. Miss Margaret Mahoney gave several readings, which were enthusiastically received, and Guiseppi Pettine rendered excellent mandolin selections.

There were in the gathering representatives of Haskell, Pawtucket, Unity, Delphi, Conanicut, Granite, Narragansett, Maschachaug, Alerta, Choppoquonset, Moshassuck, Wanbosset and Massasoit councils of the various parts of the Rhode Island, and visitors from a number of other councils in other states. Coronet Council by this entertainment has extended its reputation for cordiality far beyond the limits of its home and the state.

The committee in charge of the entertainment consisted of W. Fred Wagner, chairman; G. Manson Foote, secretary; Robert S. Burlingame, Fred M. Hammett, J. Irving Shepley, John M. Taylor, Andrew K. McMahon, John P. Peckham and William H. Huntington, who were assisted in carrying out the arrangements by Messrs. William Champlin, David A. Lawton, Horace S. Brown and Albert E. Hounen.

Marine Barracks, Training Station, Scene of Last Night's Fire.

VISITORS HAD POOR LUCK.

Dean Academy Team Plays a Good Game with the Reserves, But Loses by One-Sided Score.

The Naval Reserves resumed basket ball playing at the armory last night, when they met the Dean Academy team. The visitors were an active, strong and well-trained team and played good basket ball, but they were up against a strong team playing fast basket ball, and then they had some poor luck in throwing for the baskets, which makes the score look rather one sided, though the playing was not. Dean started the scoring in the first half, Wyatt getting the first count, and later he scored from a foul, and that was all the count the visitors got in the first half, during which the Reserves rolled up 25 points.

In the second half the play was more even, and five minutes had elapsed before Waters made the first count. In this half Harvey did some of that phenomenal twisting which results in the ball dropping into the basket for a count, and again and again the crowd cheered over a shot such as they see only when Harvey is performing. Waters was also on hand with some very lively work, and at times nearly all the Reserves had a shot at the basket by judicious passing back. McMahon did some very clever shooting.

It was a game of basket ball and not of holding, and the comparatively small crowd enjoyed the sport and encouraged the visitors, who to the end played a good game, never letting up at any time and being in good condition at the close. Wallace, who played against Harvey, was a particularly muscular and active young player, and Walker kept Waters hustling some, and despite the chilly atmosphere the crowd was kept alive by the fast play on both sides. In the second half the visitors had their hardest luck, as they had a number of easy chances to score that resulted in nothing save a try, while with a little luck these shots would have materially improved their score. The line-up:

Reserves.		Dean Academy.
Harvey, l. f.		l. f., Walden
Waters, r. f.		r. f., Stevens
McMahon, c.		c., Wyatt
Sullivan, l. b.		l. b., Walker
Dunn, r. b.		r. b., Wallace

Score—Reserves 50; Dean Academy 7. Baskets—Harvey 9, Waters 5, McMahon 8, Sullivan 2, Dunn 1; Walden 2, Wyatt 1. From fouls—Wyatt 1. Missed foul tries—McMahon 1; Wyatt 2. Missed field tries—Reserves 75; Dean 35. Referee—D. McLean.

The Junior League made an attempt to resume play last night, when the Galahads played at St. Mary's hall and another mix-up was left for the board of directors. It appears that the Galahads took the lead in the first half, playing basket ball, 14 to 8. In the second the St. Marys rather roughed it and led, 11 to 5, the total score being 22 to 19, when it was announced that time was up and the Galahads stopped playing. The St. Mary's men claimed that some playing time remained and the referee awarded the St. Marys the game by forfeit, 2 to 0, under the rules. The board will thus have another dispute to decide. The line-up and score so far as the game went were:

Galahad.		St. Mary.
Gibson, l. f.		l. f., McCarthy
Curtis, r. f.		r. f., Martin
Briggs, c.		c., Ring
Fludder, l. b.		l. b., Devine
Wrenquest, r. b.		r. b., Hickey

Score—Galahad 22; St. Mary 19. Baskets—Gibson 3, Curtis 3, Briggs 1; McCarthy 2, Martin 3, Ring 1, Devine 1. From fouls—Curtis 1; Martin 5. Officials—Pitman and Watterson.

The claim that there remained some playing time after the game had terminated is somewhat mysterious. The teams had left the floor, the spectators were satisfied that the game was over, and nothing was said to the Galahad team about some few seconds or minutes of time being discovered by some one, so just where the St. Mary's team will have a cause for complaint when the game comes up for consideration is a question. There is one point of importance, however; the loss of this game means that the St. Mary's team is out of the contest for first place.

There should be a first-class game Monday night, when the Crescents of Paterson, N. J., are to play their second game. Lovers of the sport are agreed that the Crescents are the best basket ball players who have appeared in the armory floor this season. They play basket ball and not a holding, wrestling game.

Fire in the Attic of the Marine Barracks at the Training Station Does Slight Damage.

The trial of the new steamer at the Training Station yesterday was the forerunner of another fire at the Station, this time in the marine barracks, though but little damage was done. It was about 8:30 P. M. when a strange light was seen in the attic of the building occupied by the marine guard of the station. The long roll was sounded at once, calling the guard to fire quarters. Lieutenant Yates, officer of the day, taking command of the fighting force soon had a ladder in position from the bathroom window to the roof and a bucket brigade in line on the ladder. Men went into the smoke in the attic, and while some threw out mattresses others threw on water, and in short order the fire was out, with practically no damage except the partial destruction of 30 mattresses. Ten minutes after the local alarm a general alarm was sent in and the fire details all over the Island assembled at quarters, while Admiral Thomas, Captain Sawyer and Lieutenant Commander Hourigan went to the scene, though when they arrived the fire was out and the other forces were not called to the assistance of the marines.

The attic is used as a storage place, and it is believed that the fire was caused by electric light wires, though Major Kane of the marine guard has ordered a full investigation. The new steamer was not taken out, as it is not in commission and was not available for use had it been needed. The structure is of wood, and except for the good work of the guard they might have found their quarters less comfortable today than they are. This is the second accidental fire which has occurred in this building this winter, the previous one having received the same prompt and efficient attention.

WITH JAMES B. MACKIE.

In the company which will support James B. Mackie as "Grimesey Me Boy," in his musical comedy, "Grimes's Cellar Door," are Harry Salmon, Ida Chester, Lawrence Wyndham and Gertrude Lang. There are a number of clever comedians, singers and dancers; a variety of trick scenery, new songs and up-to-date specialties, to make up an interesting performance. Mr. Mackie made his first successes in the Hoyt comedies and is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific as a clever comedian and an entertainer of ability.

IN "THE ETERNAL CITY."

In "The Eternal City," which is to be presented here, with Jane Kennark as Donna Roma and William E. Bonney as David Rossi, the theatre-goers of Newport will have an opportunity to see what may be considered Hall Caine's greatest work, and a play which was a London and New York sensation during a season that presented many surprises. In it the Manx author is at his best—imaginative, dramatic, forceful, resourceful and sincere. Nearly everybody has read the novel, "The Eternal City," and many of these will be glad to see the stage version.

"HOW TO BUY AND COOK FOOD."

Miss Tanner, Teacher of Cooking at the Newport Hospital, Talks At the Mothers' Meeting.

At the mothers' meeting at the Lenthal School yesterday afternoon before a good-sized audience, Miss Harriet E. Thomas, head of the sociological department of the Civic League, presiding, Miss Elsie K. Tanner, teacher of cooking at the Newport Hospital, gave an interesting talk on "How to Buy and Cook Food." In opening Miss Tanner spoke of the necessity of keeping cellars well ventilated and of removing all decaying matter. Children should be fed at regular intervals on the simplest kind of food. If children work before breakfast they should be given something to eat. Broths are good for children's luncheons, but much fried food is not good.

It is not necessary to buy high-priced meats, as the cheaper grades, if carefully cooked and tastefully served, answer every purpose. A proper combination of food is essential to a well-balanced diet. The heat-generating, energy-giving and tissue-building foods must all be eaten, as the body is like a machine, which must have proper food to make it go properly. When there is a better understanding of the principles of nutrition, the present evils will be remedied.

At the conclusion of the lecture several questions were asked and these were answered by Miss Tanner. In answer to the question as to what were proper combinations for luncheons when the means were limited the following were given: Meat (bacon particularly digestible) and potatoes; macaroni and cheese; cereal and prunes or other fruit; pork and beans, and pea soup with a ham bone or pork. Other questions brought out the following facts. An article which is broiled, baked or boiled is simply cooked; one that is fried is not. Up to the school age a light luncheon should be given the child at 10 o'clock and this, as well as all other luncheons for children, should consist of milk, bread, home-made and a little stale, and butter, crackers, broth and fruit, and not of bakers' bread, cake and pies, which are likely to be very sweet and fresh and to contain alum, ammonia and inferior eggs. Soft and dropped eggs and cocoa and water, the latter after meals, are good for children, but tea and coffee are not. At the close of the discussion of the interesting subject team and wafers were served.

The mothers' meeting next week will be at Coddington School and will be addressed by Miss Mary Patterson, superintendent of the Newport Hospital, on "The Hygiene of the Home."

BENEFICENT BACTERIA.

[Country Life in American.]

I had a most successful experience with nitrogen-collecting bacteria last summer, the results of which have proved their usefulness to me for peas and beans. We planted one plat of peas (Burpee's Improved Senator), April 25, after duly inoculating them with nitrogen-collecting bacteria. From June 30 to July 15 we harvested twelve and a half pecks of green pods. No trellis was used. The plants were stronger, they blossomed two weeks earlier, they withstood the dry weather better and then matured more peas than plants not inoculated. On beans the chief advantage of inoculation was earliness—a difference of about ten days. When beans were ready to pick on the inoculated row they were just beginning to set on the other. On rich soil the uninoculated seed later matured almost as large a crop.

WAISTS

Lawns, Muslin, Linens, Irish Lace, Irish Linen, Lingerie, Batiste, Japanese Silk, Chambray.

Our Waist Department is double the size of any in the city.

Results, a greater variety for you to choose from.

The department is light, airy and comfortable, affording you an opportunity to see just what you are buying.

Our salesladies know their stock, and nothing pleases them more than a chance to show it.

Our Waists are selected by an expert, who knows what a good waist should be.

No waist, whatever the price, or however showy, can enter our doors, unless it is a perfect piece of goods.

Our Waists do not draw across the bust, nor are they skimped in the length.

Instead they are plenty full, each stitch fine and perfect, each one designed by a master hand, and any waist that we sell gains us a new customer and has given you full value for your money.
